Most Terrific Battles Since Landing in France Underway

Americans Gain In Spite of Furious German Counterattacks

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 15.—(P)—American troops have surged powerfully ahead in their stab into the Cherbourg neck. Allied headquarters announced today, and Berlin reported that less than six miles separated the spearhead from the last west coast communications linking Cherbourg with France.

The gains were hammered out in spite of furious counterattacks all along the 100-mile invasion front in which the Germans had thrown about 20 divisions and 600 tanks.

By Wes Gallagher
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 15.—(P)—The Allies were fighting today their fiercest battles since the landings in France and the German high command, which had thrown four armored divisions into furious counterattacks, declared the battle "is approaching its climax."

American infantry and airborne units, supported by tanks smashing across the Cherbourg neck, drove within seven miles of cutting the last communication, lines leading to the big port at the tip of the peninsula.

This was virtually the only Allied gain of the last 24 hours.

The Germans drove the British from Troarn which the Allies had occupied as the eastern anchor of their 100-mile line, and from Villers-Bocage, one of their two advance points southwest of Caen.

Best unofficial estimates placed the number of German divisions in action now at around 20 and there were strong indications that the enemy was bringing in reserves from other armies as distant as 200 miles.

The fierceness of the fighting was attested by the German high command, which broadcast that the Allies were trying to enlarge their bridgehead "toward all sides." It added:
"Among salvos of heaviest guns, incessant air attacks and with freshly brought up infantry (Please turn to Page 4, Column 3)

Find License In Oklahoma

Paul Whiteman of Sedalia, reported to the police as being A. W. O. L. from Suffolk county army air base, Westhampton, Long Island, N. Y., has been apprehended in Oklahoma City and the car in which he was riding bore the license reported stolen from Mrs. Lee Redmond, 422 Wilkerson street according to a report received by the Sedalia police.

Whiteman, according to a report received from military authorities at Westhampton, left that base on June 7. It classified him as a "prisoner." Local officers believe that he was serving out an army sentence for being A. W. O. L. last winter.

Several days ago local police received a message from the army requesting them to pick Whiteman up if he was located in this section. They are under the impression he slipped into Sedalia night before last, or sometime yesterday, made a brief visit, took the license plate and disappeared before any information about him could be obtained.

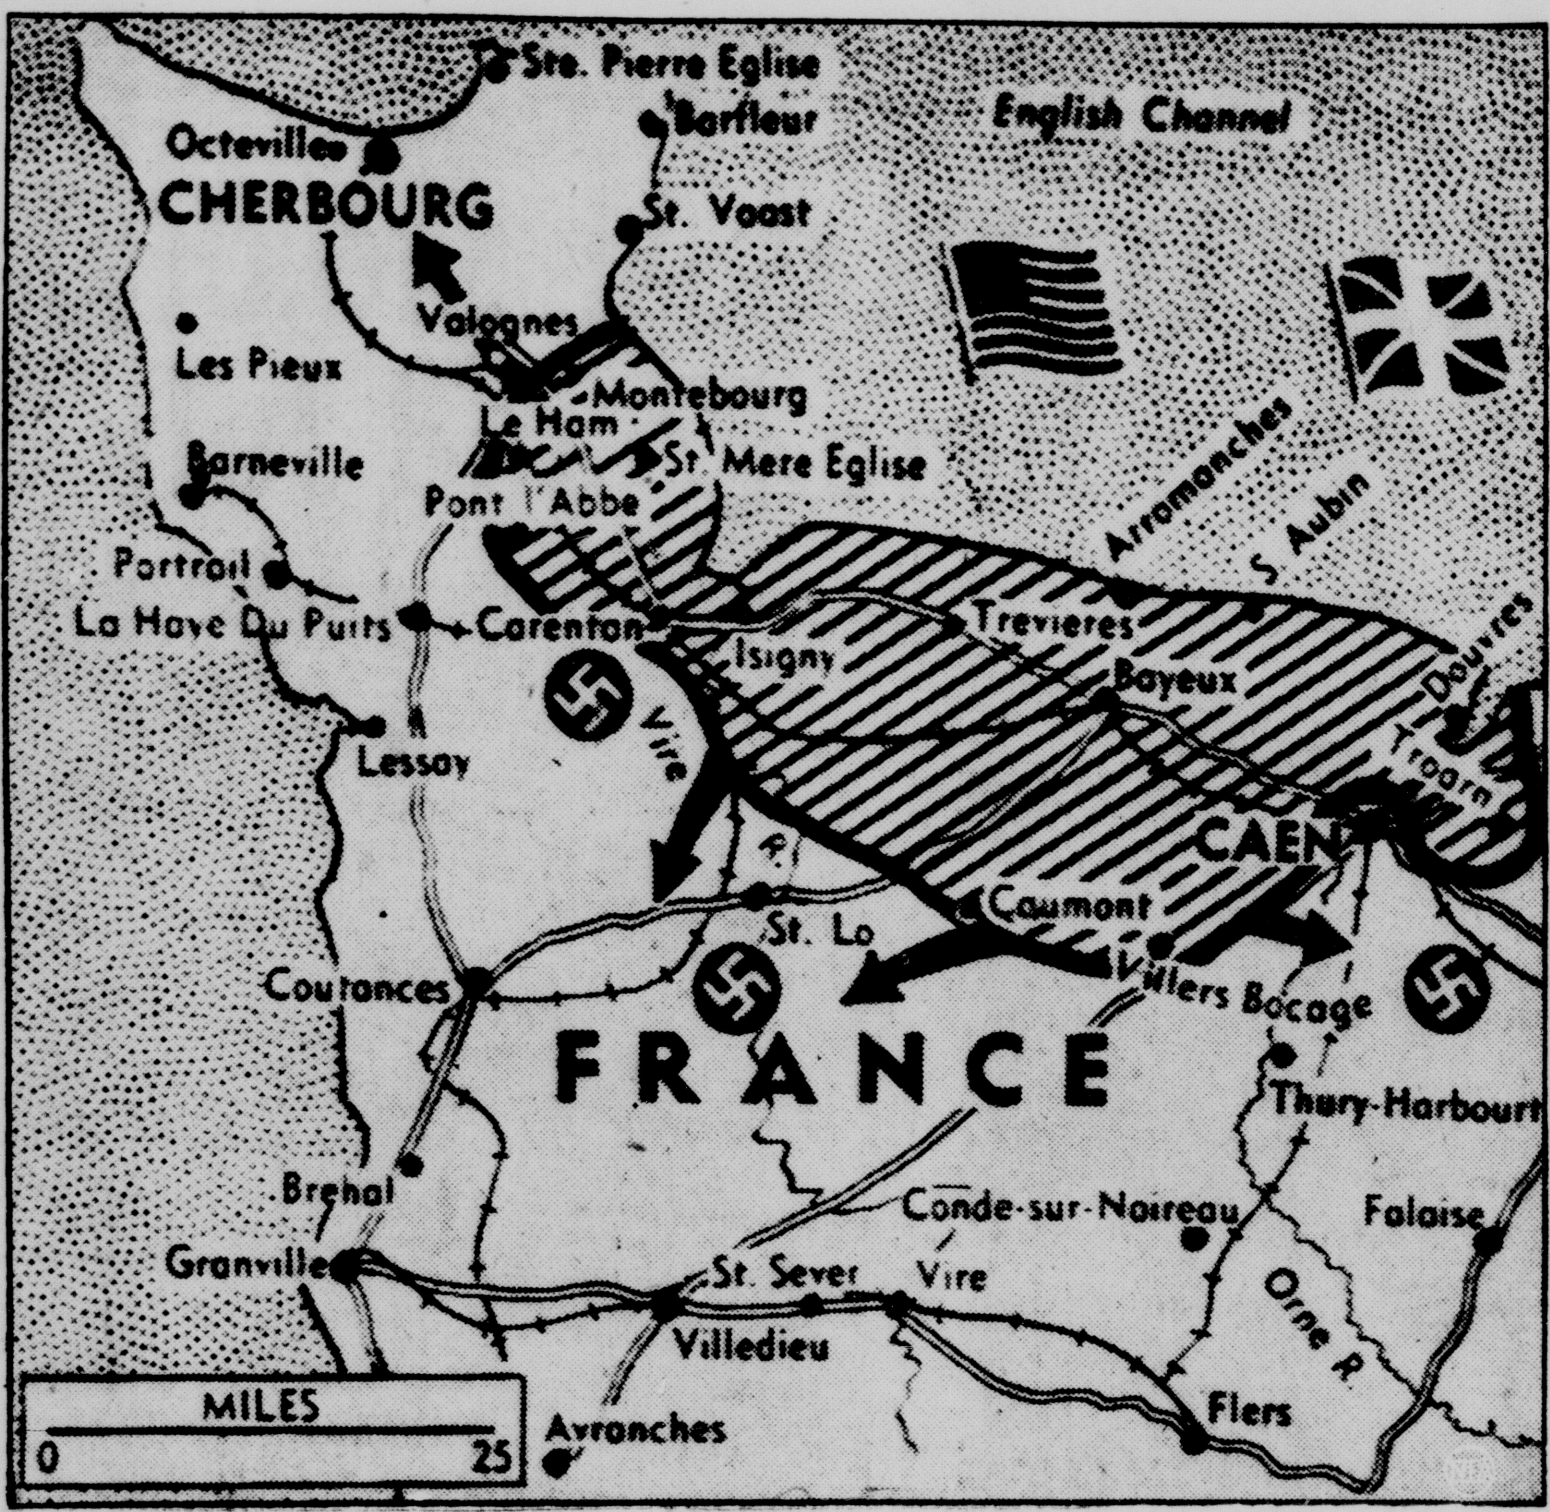

Mrs. Redmond reported to the police this morning that her license plate was lost or stolen. When the state highway patrol was notified of the item, they in turn notified the Sedalia police of the ending of the license tag in Oklahoma.

Whiteman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whiteman, 623 West Twenty-fourth street, this city. He served the service in April, 1943.

Allied Troops Advance on Italian Line

Breaking German Resistance of Last Three Days

By Edward Kennedy

ROME, June 15.—(P)—Allied troops, breaking the stiffening resistance of the last three days, have made a general advance all along their line in Italy taking Orvieto, Aquila and Narni and pushing onward. Allied headquarters announced today.

Orvieto is 57 miles northwest of Rome; Narni, 41 miles north, and Aquila, 54 miles northeast. Along the west coast the Fifth army has advanced 79 miles beyond Rome.

As one Eighth army column entered Orvieto, an important road junction northeast of Lake Bolsena, another reached the outskirts of Terni, but was delayed by a blown bridge and a German counter attack in the vicinity of the city.

Fifth army troops along the west coast met determined enemy resistance at Magliano, 11 miles to the northeast of Orvieto, but swept it aside and entered the town.

Orbetello Falls
The fall of Orbetello itself, a west coast town 71 miles beyond Rome at the center of German resistance to the Fifth army's offensive, was reported last night.

In the Lake Bolsena area the French troops continued to advance. (Please turn to Page 4, Column 4)

Invasion Highlights

LONDON, June 15.—(P)—Fighter Pilot Lt. Herbert Kramer of Rocky River, Ohio, looked down on the fields near Tours, France, and saw a bush moving, so he swooped in at tree-top level and shot to pieces a camouflaged troop truck.

"A bird in the hands is maybe worth two in the bush, but a truck in the bush ain't worth a dime," he remarked.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—War Secretary Stimson said today the Allies have established a firm foothold on the European coast.

"I believe we are there to stay until all of France is liberated and Germany defeated," he asserted, although that "we must expect counter attacks greater than any yet met" in the fighting in Normandy.

WITH THE U. S. NINTH AIR FORCE IN FRANCE, June 13.—(Delayed)—(P)—Sweating engineers of the 9th American air force, with half of their number using axes and the other half shovels, have dug four landing fields out of the dusty soil of Normandy in the first week of the invasion.

Several miles from the coast, where the German dead still sprawl and rifles bark, one landing strip is taking shape on the rolling countryside. While bulldozers uproot trees and the ground is chewed level by big graders, rifle-men stand guard against snipers.

LONDON, June 15.—(P)—The weather in the Dover strait area was bright and clear this morning and the sea remained smooth under a light northerly breeze.

The temperature was just above 60 degrees at 8 a. m., and visibility was good. The barometer indicated the outlook for continued fair weather was good.

War Correspondent Wounded

NEW YORK, June 15.—(P)—Gordon Gaskill, 30-year-old war correspondent for the American magazine, received shrapnel wounds of the shoulder and a minor bullet wound in the abdomen during the invasion of France, the publication announced today, but has recovered sufficiently to leave a hospital. Gaskill lives in May, Landing, N. J.

1,000 Bombers, Many Fighters, Over France

Hit Airplane Plants, Airfields, Rail Facilities

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, June 15.—(P)—A force of between 1,000 and 2,000 American Fortresses and Liberators and escorting fighters swept over France this morning, bombing airplane plants, airfields and rail facilities in a dozen places.

Berlin radio reported an attack on the great industrial city of Hannover in Germany while lighter Allied warplanes from bases in Normandy and Britain continued their widespread support campaign in a smashing follow-up to an 1,100 bomber operation overnight.

As a part of the latter operation several hundred Lancasters blasted E-boat pens at Le Havre with six ton "factory busters" in daylight.

Senators Discuss Pleasant Features of Post-War World

By Francis J. Kelly

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—Pleasant features of the postwar world, some hopeful senators agreed today, will include: laundry that comes back in less than two weeks, filling station attendants who gladly check your tires and grocers with cheery smiles handing out complimentary sacks of lollipops to children on Saturday night.

"A buyers' market is inevitable after the war," was the way Senator George (D-Ga.) put it, and he's been studying the probabilities for months as chairman of the senate's special postwar planning committee.

Senators, it develops are quite as familiar with the little annoyances of wartime living as the rest of civilian Americans. The most casual questioning brought tales of torn shirts, suits held for weeks by dry cleaners, and grocery clerks who displayed a minimum of interest in maintaining good will.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—American troops are storming Japanese positions on Saipan Island only 1,500 miles southeast of Tokyo, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific commander in chief, announced.

Disclosure of the landing came only two hours after the War Department announced bombardment of Japan today by B-29 Super Fortresses in the first operational action of the newest and most formidable of the army's bombing planes. Little information was given on the attack and targets were not disclosed.

Wm. C. Weer Run Over by Train, Killed

Retired M.K.T. Engineer, Came to Sedalia in 1896

William C. "Bill" Weer, 74 years old, retired Missouri-Kansas-Texas engineer, was killed about 7:15 o'clock this morning when run over by the first section of M-K-T freight No. 72, north bound, in the yards between Fifth street and Broadway. His body was discovered by a brakeman, a few seconds after the train had started moving to leave Sedalia.

According to information given officials, Mr. Weer was lying face down, his head and shoulders inside the rails and the lower part of the body lying outside, and west of the rails. One of the brakemen, in the vicinity heard a noise and upon investigating, found the body. He immediately stopped the train.

The train had stopped for water for the engine at the depot. Apparently one or two trucks had passed over the body when it was discovered, it was said. The accident occurred about 250 feet north of the Broadway overpass.

Conductor McCallahan, and Engineer Phillips, both of New Franklin were in charge of the train.

Coroner Called

Dr. W. T. Bishop, coroner, was notified and after conducting his investigation said he did not feel it necessary to hold an investigation. Police were also notified and made an investigation.

The body was removed to the Gillespie funeral home.

Mr. Weer, had worked for the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad since 1896, as an engineer. He came to Sedalia from the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia, Pa., bringing to this division the first of the latest type locomotives of that time. July 1, 1937 he retired.

He began his railroad career, (Please turn to Page 4, Column 5)

Council to Represent All Nations

President Calls For its Creation, Will Keep Peace, Backed by Force

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—President Roosevelt called today for creation of a world organization of all "peace-loving" nations to maintain peace and security—backed by force if necessary.

"We are not thinking of a superstate with its own police force and other paraphernalia of coercive power," the president said, but added that member nations of the world organization would maintain adequate forces "for joint action when necessary."

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—President Roosevelt today made public the administration's conception of a post-war international peace organization providing for a council representing all nations, to concern itself with the settlement of international disputes and to prevent war.

The President said the organization also should include an international court of justice.

Mr. Roosevelt issued his statement after a conference with Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Dr. Isaiah Bowman and Leo Pasvolsky, officials of the state department who have been working on postwar planning.

"It is our thought," the President said in his statement, "that the organization (for international cooperation) would be a fully representative body with broad responsibilities for promoting and facilitating international cooperation."

The organization, he continued, "would provide for a council, elected annually by the fully representative body of all nations, which would include the four (Please turn to Page 4, Column 3)

Stiff Finn Resistance

By Eddy Gilmore

MOSCOW, June 15.—(P)—The Red Army hurled the Finns across an important but unnamed river today as it pressed on toward the Port of Viipuri against an enemy who is throwing up what Red Star described as "a multitude of obstacles."

All dispatches stressed the difficult fighting conditions faced by Col. Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's troops. In numerous places the Russians were employing special squads to cut through dense forests and build highways.

There were many indications that Finnish resistance was stiffening and that the Soviets had come up against the main Finnish defenses, but no indications that the Finns had been able to stop the Red Army in any sector.

Falling back towards Viipuri, the Finns chopped down hundreds of tall firs across the highway and railroad line.

The Finns were using the forests for ambushes, causing extreme caution on the part of Soviet troops anxious to save every tank in the near wilderness of the Karelian Isthmus.

The Russians introduced heavy bombers in efforts to blast through the forests. An Izvestia correspondent reported that sailors from the Baltic fleet had entered the campaign, but he did not specify where.

Enemy Forces Open Fire on Mariana Isles

Admiral Halsey Being Assigned To New Role

By J. B. Krueger Associated Press War Editor

A powerful Allied naval task force is attempting to put ground troops ashore on Saipan and Tinian in the Marianas Isles 1,500 miles southeast of Japan, Tokyo radio said today.

The unconfirmed enemy announcement said Japanese defenders allowed "the invaders to approach as near as possible to the coast and then opened up a fierce concentrated fire on the enemy and foiled the attempt." A second landing attempt, it said, likewise was met with heavy fire and

New B-29 Bombers In Action

First Report Of Existence of 20th Bomber Command Unit

By J. B. Krueger Associated Press War Editor

Super-Fortresses of the United States Army Air Forces bombed Japan today, more than two years after the first historic raid on Tokyo by the daring carrier-based planes commanded by Lt. Col. James Doolittle, now a lieutenant general.

The cryptic announcement by the War Department said merely that "B-29 Super-Fortresses of the United States Army Air Forces 20th Bomber Command bombed Japan today."

It was the first fighting assignment for the sky mammoth, and the announcement also served to disclose for the first time the existence of the 20th air force (of which the 20th bomber command is a part), a world-roaming unit under the personal direction of Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces.

Where the raiders struck, their numbers, their bases and other information on this long-awaited aerial attack on Nippon remained a military secret. The Doolittle raid on Tokyo was made April 18, 1942.

Earlier the Tokyo radio said a powerful Allied naval task force was attempting to put ground troops ashore on Saipan and Tinian islands in the Marianas group 1,500 miles southeast of Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14—

(P)—The National Broadcasting company's monitoring station here reported that Radio Tokyo made a routine sign off today with no mention of the Super-Fortress attack on Japan announced by the War Department.

It made no reference, however, to the bombing of Japan.

The War Department withheld details on the new bombing of Japan proper—first such attack on the mainland since the Doolittle raid of April 18, 1942.

There was no immediate hint of what part of Nippon had been hit, nor from where the B-29's went into action.

However, the War Department subsequently disclosed that planes taking part in today's raid came from the India-China-Burma theatre.

The B-29, it was disclosed for the first time, is a heavily armored ship whose bomb load, range and ceiling exceed that of any other plane. It is powered by four engines of 2,200 horsepower each, each carrying two superchargers. Its wing span is 141.2 feet, as compared with the B-17's (Flying Fortress) span of 104 feet.

Arnold's Statement

But Arnold said in connection with the announcement: "This employment of the B-29 makes possible the softening up attack on Japan very much earlier than would be possible with aircraft hitherto known to combat."

General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, in a statement on the attack made public by the War Department, said that the Super Fortress introduced a new type of offensive against the enemy and "also creates a new problem in the application of military force."

Because of the enormous range and heavy bomb load of this newest bombardment plane, said Marshall, they can strike "from many and remote bases at a single objective."

Their power is so great, the chief of staff continued, that the (American) joint chiefs of staff decided it would be uneconomical to confine the Super Fortress organization to a single theater, and "these bombers therefore will remain under the centralized control of the joint chiefs of staff with a single commander, General Arnold, acting as their agent in directing their bombing operation (Please turn to Page 4, Column 2)

U. S. Had 1,300 Ships In Invasion

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—Navy Secretary Forrestal reported Wednesday that the United States naval task force engaged in the invasion of France included more than 1,300 warships of all types.

In the giant armada, he said, were the battleships Nevada, Arkansas, and Texas; the cruisers Augusta, Tuscaloosa, and Quincy, and "more than 30 destroyers."

Despite the great size of the fleet pounding European shores, he said, the Pacific offensive "has not been and will not be diminished by our naval effort in Europe."

On the contrary, Forrestal said, "at the moment of Germany's greatest crisis, Japan is being too hard pressed to lend any diversionary support."

He cited the attacks on the Pacific Marianas Islands as an indication of the "accelerated offensive in the Pacific."

The Fifth WAR LOAN Goal: $16,000,000,000 Between June 12 and July 8

Buy an EXTRA WAR BOND!

Keep Them Flying—Take Care of Your Future and Theirs

Fight By His Side!

As the great allied war machine gears itself . . . all of us in America are asked again . . . more emphatically than ever before . . . to buy more EXTRA War Bonds. The Fifth War Loan has a bigger goal than any of its predecessors and it has a bigger job to do. To beat the German and the Jap effectively . . . to lay the groundwork for a free and decent post-war world . . . we can't afford not to afford an all-out effort in this big drive. Join the fight!

DO MORE THAN BEFORE!

We must buy EXTRA bonds for our own sake. We cannot risk our own personal meaning for Victory . . . peace . . . and the free, progressive way of life we prefer. We must buy EXTRA bonds for the sake of our fighting men. We can't risk the future of our soldiers, sailors and marines who are tackling the enemy all over the globe . . . and beating him, too. We must help to shorten their job and bring them home. We must insure for them the kind of America where they can get the jobs they want and chart the course they choose. It is up to us to do these things with the money we lend through the War Bonds we buy.

BUY MORE—Double What You Did Before!

We can't stop buying War Bonds until Victory is ours. As long as an occupied country wears the yoke of the swastika . . . as long as the Jap menace sweeps the Pacific . . . as long as an Axis plane is still in the air and an Axis soldier remains armed . . . we must buy War Bonds and more Bonds for the future of America and the world.

Two Killed As Train Hits Truck

PAULS VALLEY, Okla., June 15.—(AP)—Nearly four hours after a flaming collision with a butane gas truck in which the engineer and truck driver were killed, a Santa Fe passenger train with a substitute engine continued its journey south from here Wednesday.

None of the train's passengers was injured. The dead were: W. T. Sykes, Cleburne, Tex., the engineer, and John C. Kerr, Allen, Pontotoc county driver of the truck.

The locomotive, pulling 10 coaches loaded with passengers, struck the truck at a crossing north of here, slashing it half in two and spreading flames over the engine, the baggage coach, and the lead passenger coach, occupied by army troops.

The soldiers quickly moved to cars in the rear before the flames spread to their coach.

Prisoners Help Close Breach In Levee

OMAHA, June 15.—(AP)—Volunteers, approximately 100 prisoners of war from the Clarinda, Ia., camp and U. S. Missouri river district engineers Wednesday night succeeded in closing a 200-foot breach in one of the 13 levees reported broken along the Missouri under pressure of flood waters.

Engineers said workers also were winning a fight at another strategic point along the levee to prevent additional water from sweeping into partly-inundated Hamburg, Ia., and threatening Percival, Ia.

Flood stage at Nebraska City, Neb., upstream from the threatened southwestern Iowa and southeastern Nebraska sections, would remain at about 19.5 for the next two days instead of reaching a record-breaking 20 feet, the Kansas City weather bureau reported.

GIRL SCOUT

A Good Girl Scout Staff Does Make a Good Camp

We ought to know! Girl Scout camps have weathered two wartime seasons during which the task of securing staff members has seemed gigantic. Camp directors and camp committees are now well into the work of a third year and have mastered the techniques of finding good staff in spite of ever limited sources of supply.

With a view to enlarging the Girl Scout facilities and training at "Little House", the Sedalia Girl Scout Council sent two well known leaders, Mrs. Harry N. Lambirth and Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, to Camp Pin Oak, Kaiser, Mo., for a week of specialized training for Camp Counselors and Camp Consultants.

Mrs. Robert Ricketts was Camp Director, assisted by Miss Dorothy Taylor and Mrs. Eve Crittenden, National Staff members.

Every Girl Scout in Sedalia thrills at the idea of going to "Little House," and this year the improvements now in progress will add materially to their good time. Just being in a camp should be the beginning of campcraft; there is the challenge of making oneself comfortable, of taking care of oneself, of making much out of little. If too much is already provided in a camp setting, campcraft will not flourish.

Think of the fun of finding a good fork stick for a toasting fork, tackling a tree stump that must be removed from a newly laid out path. Making an outdoor fire. Learning what "good campers" do.

Rob Police Statistician

KANSAS CITY, June 15.—(P)—Six hundred forty-nine Kansas city police force members smiled today and wondered if Richard L. Holcomb, police statistician and quizmaster could answer this question:

What thief entered Holcomb's home last night and emptied the pockets of the officer's trousers hanging within inches of his bed?

Holcomb, 32, is director of the police academy and thinks up the tough questions for police examinations. A graduate of the Northwestern University traffic school and holder of a master's degree from Iowa University, Holcomb is credited with drawing up an efficient inter-departmental plan for the police force. Promotions and pay increases for Kansas city policemen depend in large part to their answers to Holcomb's examination questions.

New B-29 Fortress In Action

Major Task Forces.

"The planes will be treated as major task forces in the same manner as naval task forces are directed against specific objectives," Marshall said. "This type of flexible, centralized control recognizes that very long-range bombardment is not a weapon for the air forces alone. Under the joint chiefs of staff, theater commanders will have a voice in its employment, ensuring that maximum effectiveness will be obtained through missions which will contribute directly to the overall strategies for the defeat of the enemies."

It was the second American raid on the Japanese homeland. On April 18, 1942, when American military fortunes were at their lowest, the nation was electrified by word that Tokyo and other Japanese cities had been attacked from the air.

The first announcement then came from the Japanese and it was not until weeks later that it was learned that a force of B-25 Mitchell bombers under James H. Doolittle, then only a lieutenant colonel but now a lieutenant general commanding the Eighth Air Force in Britain, had carried out that adventurous mission.

The Mitchells flew from the aircraft carrier Hornet and after crossing Japan flew on to the continent. One landed in eastern Siberia, the others in China. Some of them came down in Japanese-held territory and a few of the fliers were taken captive. Months later the Japanese themselves made it known that some of these prisoners had been executed.

German Broadcast

Nearly two hours after the first announcement, however, the German DNB agency said in a dispatch designed for foreign publication:

"Japan has been bombed by American aircraft according to reports from Washington."

There was no indication that the German home radio had carried the news.

Charged With Assault, And Battery on Wife

Alfred Burns, 1716 South Beacon avenue, was arrested Wednesday night on a charge of assault and battery on his wife. He was lodged in the county jail to await a hearing before Magistrate C. W. Bente, sitting as ex-officio justice of the peace, at 9 o'clock Friday morning.

Burns, according to the police report, also threatened his wife. When a call was received at police headquarters, Officer Ray George and State Trooper Lloyd Amos, went to the residence, and arrested him.

Most Terrific Battles Since Landing in France Underway

and tank forces being thrown in to action on both sides, the battle is approaching a climax."

Nine Mile Advance

The American advance was on a nine-mile front westward from Carentan toward high ground controlling the last German roads leading to Cherbourg.

Violent German reaction to the threat to the lifeline was expected, and it was likely that further American advances would be only after the costliest fighting.

The Yankees plunged to the Les Sablons-Baupie area, south of Ste. Mere Eglise and west of Carentan. Seven miles to the westward is high ground overlooking La Haye Puits, through which runs the last remaining major north-south highway on the peninsula still in German hands.

The advance placed the Americans nearly half way across the peninsula at its narrowest point. Toward the tip of the peninsula hand-to-hand fighting surged between Germans and troops of the U. S. Fourth division in the streets of Montebourg, 14 miles southeast of Cherbourg.

Town Changes Hands

American artillery was shelling the road from Montebourg to Valognes to the northwest, and the doughboys controlled the road from Quineville, on the coast, to Montebourg, but the town itself changed hands from hour to hour.

American airborne troops spearheaded the fighting around Carentan and besides pushing to the west shoved the Germans back more than a mile south of the town.

Allied troops driving southward along the central sector of the front were engaged in heavy fighting around Caumont and in Villers-Bocage after counter-attack.

Pass Eight Per Cent of Goal

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—The Fifth War Loan drive passed eight per cent of the goal of individual sales during its second day.

Reported purchases through Tuesday night were $484,000,000—toward the $6,000,000,000 goal for individuals, the treasury announced last night.

The treasury said war bonds now buy more and better war equipment than they did a year ago. For example:

A heavy bomber, listed at $500,000 a year ago, now costs $250,000.

A fighter plane, which cost $150,000 last year, now is listed at $50,000. A 4,000-pound blockbuster used to cost $872, now is $778. A Garand rifle was $80 a year ago, now $35.

But the price of army mules has gone up. The average a year ago was $190. Now it's $225.

major nations and a suitable number of other nations. The council would concern itself with peaceful settlement of international disputes and with the prevention of threats to the peace or breaches of the peace."

Mr. Roosevelt's statement emphasized we are "not thinking of a super state with its own police force and other paraphernalia or coercive power."

His statement said consideration of a postwar organization has been in the formative stage for 18 months and he praised what he termed "the entirely non-partisan nature of these consultations."

ing heavy punishment on the invaders."

The broadcast closely followed Admiral Chester W. Nimitz' announcement yesterday outlining four days of concentrated surface and aerial bombardment of Marianas islands. Nimitz' disclosures coming as they did while the big task force was still at sea, was a bold invitation for the Japanese fleet to come out and fight. The latter continued reluctant.

400 Mile Flank

The Marianas stretch for 400 miles north and south on the eastern flank of the Philippines. Saipan is 750 miles south of the Bonin islands. The Bonins, some 600 miles from Tokyo, constitute the innermost Pacific defenses of the Japanese mainland.

Successful invasion of the Marianas—which include U. S. owned Guam, largest of the group—would advance Nimitz' fleet bases 1,000 miles westward from the present advanced positions in the Marshalls.

The task force first struck last Saturday and kept up the assaults, by shelling and bombing through Tuesday.

Tokyo radio said in its broadcast that 70 landing barges plus 20 other craft were used in the attempted landings. Its account did not claim, however, that the second landing was beaten off.

Meanwhile the biggest current land battle of the Pacific war centered at Changsha in central China, with Chungking reporting Chinese defenders holding off enemy forces attacking the city from three sides. The Japanese have thrown 200,000 men into the battle, Chungking said.

Allied Troops Advance On Italian Line

vance and the Americans reached Pitigliano, eleven miles west of the northern end of the lake, and sent reconnaissance elements farther.

Allied troops in the Adriatic sector are across the Saline river. Despite the arrival of fresh German divisions in Italy Allied armies still are encountering only formations made up of remnants of the 14th German army. Apparently these are being used for the present delaying action and the new divisions are being saved for a stand on a line farther north.

first, just before dusk, being the RAF's heaviest daylight bombardment of the war and its first high altitude daylight precision effort.

Targets of the American "heavies" today ranged from Nantes, La Poissonniere and Angouleme to Beauvais, La Frilliere and Bordeaux. The force comprised approximately 1,000 bombers and several hundred more fighters, possibly approximating yesterday's record 1500-bomber force.

The multiple attack, the deepest penetration of France since the invasion, took the bombers over a 300-mile expanse from Beauvais, 40 miles north of Paris and 100 miles east of the battle line, to Bordeaux, 300 miles south of the battlezone.

Angouleme is 70 miles north-east of Bordeaux, La Poissonniere 50 miles east of Nantes, which is 120 miles south of the battle zone. La Frilliere is eight miles east of Tours.

Since April 25, Mr. Weer had been rooming with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Foster at their home, 416 East Sixth street.

Seen Around Depot

Mr. and Mrs. Foster explained that since Mr. Weer had been residing with them that he retired early, and arose early in the morning, taking a walk and going down town to eat his breakfast.

He was seen this morning at the M-K-T depot about the time passenger train No. 5 arrived and departed, and visited with friends about the station. He was around the depot until a short time before he was found on the tracks.

Mr. Weer had planned a trip to Portland, Ore., to visit with relatives and was to leave Monday. He was to have been met in Kansas City by his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Hankla, Tulsa, Okla., who was to accompany him.

They expected to be gone for approximately three months. Their reservations had been completed and ready for the trip and Mr. Weer had obtained a large sum of money in the form of travelers checks to be taken with him.

The reservations, checks and other personal belongings were found intact in his room.

Here Since 1897

Mr. Weer was married in St. Paul, Minn., January 26, 1893, to Miss Emma Guenther. They came to Sedalia in 1897. Mrs. Weer passed away January 25, this year. Mr. Weer then sold their home, on West Fifth street.

He leaves his daughter, Mrs. Hankla, who left Tulsa immediately for Sedalia, and a son, Mark Weer, in San Bernardino, Calif., and two grandchildren, Billy Hankla, in the U. S. Navy and Gary William Weer, of San Bernardino.

Car License Deadline Today

The last day for the purchase of the 1944-45 automobile licenses, before they become delinquent, is today. The deadline has been moved from 5 o'clock to 6 o'clock this evening to take care of any persons who are unable to get to the city hall during the earlier hours.

Charles P. Keck, city collector, this afternoon said that 1,300 passenger car, and 199 truck licenses had been issued through his office up to, and including 2 o'clock. The number is expected to be increased several hundred before closing time.

It was indicated back collections of delinquent taxes will amount to an extremely large figure, due to the new city ordinance which prohibits issuing a license to anyone owing the city personal taxes.

The convicts are Harold McDonald, 36, serving two years from Newton county for disposing of mortgaged property, and Harry R. Long, 30, under two years sentence for a Greene county forgery.

Pearl Harbor Casualties

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—Twenty-seven men were killed, 100 are missing and 380 were wounded in the explosion at Pearl Harbor May 21, recently announced by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific fleet commander in chief.

The Navy last night in making the disclosure of the number of casualties, also announced that last Sunday an ammunition dump at Oahu Island exploded killing three men. Seven others are listed as missing.

The blast on May 21 occurred while ammunition was being unloaded from one of several small landing craft, several of which were destroyed. Last Sunday's explosion was caused by the accidental detonation of several torpedo warheads being transferred from a truck to a platform.

Casualties caused by the May 21 explosion and a subsequent fire were: dead—army 8, navy 9, marine corps, 10; missing—army 53, navy 21, coast guard 26; injured—army 56, navy 143, coast guard 3, marine corps, 159 and civilians, 19.

Late Market Reports

Livestock, Grain, Produce, Securities

Strong in Late Dealings

NEW YORK, June 15.—(P)—The stock market turned strong in the late dealings today on a revival of active buying in motors, steels and other key industrial shares.

Prices on average were carried to the highest levels in nearly five years with individual gains ranging from fractions to around 2 points. Transactions totaled about 1,500,000 shares.

Market leadership in the first half of the session was held by an assortment of specialties, low priced motors and miscellaneous issues which rolled up a big volume and some gains of a point or more.

Bonds were selectively higher with rails in best demand.

Wheat and Rye Higher

CHICAGO, June 15.—(P)—Attention of the grain market today was focused on the outcome of house-approved legislation seeking to guarantee parity prices for farm products and the trade was bullish. Wheat and rye futures sold as much as five cents higher, the limit permitted by Board of Trade regulations, and oats followed the upturn.

A wave of buying, much of it short covering, ran the market into stop-loss orders. There were some commission house sales of wheat at the high spots. There were some commission house sales of wheat at the high spots. There was a tendency to regard the parity legislation as inflationary and to withdraw offerings from the market when the buying move got under way.

Oats were 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents higher, July 75c.

Publicity on Treatment Misleading

Challenge Statements Made in Interest Of Kenny Treatment

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor
CHICAGO, June 15.—A charge that public and many doctors have been misled by publicity about the infantile paralysis treatment of Sister Elizabeth Kenny, famous Australian nurse, was made to the American Medical Association here today in a report by seven university professors, all physicians.
They also said they acknowledge that the Kenny publicity has stimulated the medical profession to more effective treatment.
The seven were appointed two years ago this June to evaluate the Kenny treatment by the orthopedic section of the American Medical Association and by the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons and the American Orthopedic Association.
"There is no evidence," the report said, "that the Kenny treatment prevents or decreases the amount of paralysis. We criticize severely the oft repeated statement of Miss Kenny to patients who have come to her after treatment elsewhere that had this case come to her early the disability would have been prevented. Such statements are not founded on facts."

Statements Not Supported
In another place the report said: "Miss Kenny has repeatedly stated that under 'orthodox' treatment only 13 per cent of the patients recovered without paralysis, while under her treatment over 80 per cent recover. x x x Miss Kenny's statement of 80 per cent recovery under her treatment has not been supported by accurate statistics in a significant number of cases."
"Some people using the Kenny treatment believe that paralysis can be prevented when treatment is started early enough; that is, prior to the onset of paralysis. We have seen enough cases, however, in which the Kenny treatment was instituted very early to be convinced that this does not prevent or even minimize the degree of permanent paralysis. x x x
"While the committee disapproves of and condemns the wide publicity which has misled the public and many members of the medical profession, it acknowledges that this has stimulated the medical profession to re-evaluate known methods of treatment of this disease and to treat it more effectively."

Mickey Rooney Is Inducted Into Army

LOS ANGELES, June 15.—(P)—Mickey Rooney, the ebullient 22-year-old film star, was inducted into the army Wednesday and sent to Fort MacArthur at nearby San Pedro for classification.
Mickey, who trades a film job paying him thousands weekly for an army private's $50 monthly, was rejected in March, 1943, on the grounds of a heart flutter and high blood pressure. He was reexamined and found satisfactory last March and granted a delay to complete pending films.
Rooney is the divorced husband of actress Ava Gardner.

Kansas Citizen Dies
KANSAS CITY, June 15.—(P)—Charles H. Clark, justice of the peace and former member of the city council who served as master of ceremonies at the annual Christmas dinners given by T. J. Pendergast, died here yesterday. He was 78 years old and had been ill since Saturday. Clark never married.

Nazi Sub in North Atlantic

BOSTON, June 15.—(P)—A German submarine invaded the North Atlantic fishing grounds last week, shelled and machine-gunned a Boston trawler and forced all but two of the crew to abandon ship.
The submersible finally left, her skipper apparently thinking the trawler would sink. Then the crew put the vessel in shape and brought her into port early today, her hull and superstructure looking almost like a sieve.
Details of the attack were given at a press conference by Captain James L. Abbott, 35, skipper of the fishing vessel, the Lark, owned by F. J. O'Hara Brothers, Boston operators.
The sub first was sighted about 2:30 a. m., Captain Abbott said but was mistaken at first for a friendly patrol boat. Then John Aspell, at the wheel, got a good look in the moonlit night and Abbott immediately roused the crewmen who were sleeping.
The enemy fired one shot across the bow and then opened up with machine guns as the fishermen scrambled into their dories. Captain Abbott, his 74-year-old cook Dan Maloney and the ship's dog, Rex, remained aboard.

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

J. R. Hamacher and Son having bought property here, intend to build an up-to-date flouring mill and grain elevator on the ground purchased. They are practical millers from Richmond, Mo., and expect to do custom and merchant milling, and will be in the market to buy all kinds of grain.
John Heinrichs, of Pilot Grove, was in the city last evening, on his way to Iowa and Wisconsin, on a ten-days' tour.
George Volkel, the well-known cigarmaker and side-partner of Peter Kuhn, is at Ottumwa for a few days visit with his sister, Mrs. Paul Smith.

NEW YORK, June 16.—(Special)—The latest estimate of the loss of life by the burning of the excursion steamer General Slocum yesterday places the death list at nine hundred. Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon five hundred and nineteen bodies had been recovered.

Mayor W. D. Faulkner, of Warrensburg, wrote to Chief Willis, of the fire department, thanking him for having had everything in readiness to respond to the Quarry City's call for assistance on the occasion of the big fire there a few nights ago, and in appreciation of the efforts of the local fire lads a box of choice cigars was sent to them.

Brig-Gen. Myron R. Wood, above, is new commander of 9th USAF Service Command in England. He replaces Maj-Gen. Henry J. Miller, recently demoted and returned to the U. S. for disclosing information on date of Allied invasion.

Edward Staples Succeeds Arnett

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—(P)—Edward Staples will succeed Keeton Arnett July 1 as director of the Missouri Public Expenditure Survey, Frank C. Rand of St. Louis, chairman of the taxpayers association, announced today.
Staples worked more than a year as Arnett's assistant before resigning to become assistant to Branch Rickey, executive of the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball team.
"The new director is thoroughly experienced in organization and taxpayer work," Rand said. "Under his direction the survey will continue its vigorous program to produce better government at lower cost through organized citizen action."
Arnett's resignation to enter public relations work in Chicago was announced last Saturday, and Rand said it was accepted "reluctantly and with regret."

Staples is a native of Saline county and a graduate of Kemper Military school and the University of Missouri. He also has served as principal of schools at Fulton and Blackwater and worked with Rickey when he was vice president of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team.

Rome's Fascist Street Names are Changed

ROME, June 15.—(P)—The elimination of Fascist street names in Rome has begun.
One of the first changes turned the street of the Fascist Martyrs into Bruno Bouzzi St.
The "Fascist Martyrs" were members of the strong-arm squads of the early days who met death at the hands of anti-Fascists reluctant to submit to the castor oil treatment.
Bruno Bouzzi was head of the anti-Fascist Italian Labor Federation. He was executed by the Germans before they left Rome.

The convention this year was strictly a business convention with no entertainment and the attendance was only a fourth as large as usual.

Take Extra Time With Dessert And Win Applause From Family

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

At the recent American Spice Trade Association dinner in New York this dessert excited the gourmet guests. Good suggestion for a Father's Day that on June 18th.

Strawberry Ice Cream

(Serves 8 to 10)
One pint to 1 quart strawberries, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 4 eggs yolks, 2 cups scalded milk, 1 cup (1/2 pint) light cream. Wash, hull, mash strawberries; add sugar. Set aside until needed. Mix sugar, salt and egg yolks. Add the hot milk gradually, stirring as you add. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until custard coats and spoon. Cool. Add cream. Freeze in old fashioned ice cream freezer to a mush, then add strawberries. Continue to freeze until mixture is frozen solid. Makes about 2 quarts.

Mace Sauce

(Serves 6)
One-quarter cup sugar, 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon powdered mace, 1/4 teaspoon cornstarch, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 4 egg yolks, 1 pint scalded milk. Mix together sugar, mace, cornstarch, salt. Add egg yolks and mix well. Add hot milk gradually, stirring as you add. Cook over hot water, stirring to prevent lumping, until custard coats spoon. Continue to cook, stirring occasionally, for another five minutes to assure thorough cooking of the cornstarch. Chill and serve over ice cream. Makes 2 cups sauce.

Or turn this into a delightful dessert Floating Island: Simply beat the egg whites until stiff. Fold into the hot sauce. Chill and serve.

CONTINUOUS SUPPLY USED FATS NEEDED

Rationing the Alternative If Housewives Fail

Although food fats now are point free at the grocery store, the necessity for saving used cooking fats and greases still remains, officials of Standard Rendering Company, collectors in this area, report.

Food fats, they say, are more plentiful because of increased farm production. The supply of industrial fats, however, must be maintained constantly by regular contributions from housewives if a re-allocation of food fats to industrial uses and a consequent return to rationing is to be prevented.

Housewives therefore are urged to save every ounce and turn it in regularly. Local dealers can ship direct, express collect, or call for pick-up service. They should address Standard Rendering Company, 635 Adams, Kansas City, Kansas, or phone Harrison 1645, Kansas City. Adv.

Soldiers Dream of Home-Cooked Meal for Father's Day Dinner

By GAYNOR MADDOX
 NEA Staff Writer

What would the fathers in uniform want for dinner on June 18 if they were home for Father's Day? Col. Paul Howe, director of the Nutrition Division of the Surgeon General's Office, reports they all want "good old American vittles."

Here are the menus some of the young fathers, about to be sent overseas, would want. William J. Michaels, Technician Fifth Grade, U. S. Army, says his favorite meal is fresh corn on the cob with plenty of butter and celery salt, sliced cornbread served hot, fresh tomatoes with lemon, cold potato salad, iced cucumbers and country ham, either pineapple pie or coconut cake—or both. Bill's from Burlington, N. C. and has a 2-months-old daughter.

Cpl. H. A. Peachey, from Gap, Pa., father of two sons, wants pot roast and potatoes, string beans, steamed peas and carrots, apple pie with vanilla ice cream.

A Navy father speaks—fireman First Class Thomas Stiglic, from Chicago. His order is baked green peppers stuffed with rice, chopped meat and all the trimmings his wife puts into it. Tom wants more stuffed peppers for dessert.

Cpl. John A. Harris, Army Air Force, who has a little daughter and hails from Harrisburg, Pa., sighs for Italian spaghetti with cheese and chopped meat sauce, soft cooked tomatoes, red wine and chocolate layer cake. But Second Mate Noah Chambers from Jacksonville wants southern fried chicken, summer squash, corn on cob, lettuce salad with sliced tomatoes, sliced avocados, sliced apples, all smeared with good French dressing.

From New Rochelle, N. Y., Third Class Petty Officer James Harold wants his wife, Catherine, and daughter, Patricia, and the following on Father's Day—steak, sweet potatoes or French fried potatoes, quick frozen peas, Bavarian cream custard and tall cold drink.

Plum and apple pie is a novel dessert treat.

Want good salads? Then watch your dressings.

French Dressing (About 1/2 Cup)

One-half cup salad oil, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon black pepper, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, shake of cayenne, 2 tablespoons vinegar, lemon juice or herb vinegar. Add a clove of garlic, if you like its magic in dressings.

Mix dry ingredients. Stir in the vinegar a little at a time. Add oil. Stir or shake well.

Vinaigrette Sauce (About 1/2 Cup)

One-half cup French dressing, 1 teaspoon minced sweet pickles, 1 teaspoon minced capers, 1 teaspoon finely minced green pepper, 1/2 teaspoon each minced parsley, onion and chives, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard.

ST. STEPHENS' BROWNS MATCHES HIS HITTING

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, June 15—(AP)—Ancient history lesson: Moved by the furore over Mel Harder's 200th major league victory this spring, Ernie Lanigan looked over his records and found the near-misses included 198 victories by Bullet Joe Bush, 194 by Babe Adams and 185 by Adolfo Luque and Bob Shawkey. . . . Ralph A. Reddick of Blanchester, Ohio, who also finds interesting items in old baseball books, reports that Wilbert Robinson caught for Baltimore in four different leagues—the old American Association (a major league) in 1890-91, Ned Hanlon's National League Orioles until 1900, John McGraw's American League team in 1900-02 and the Eastern League Orioles in 1903. . . . But L. Earl Moseley went him one better by pitching for Youngstown, O., in three leagues in as many years—Ohio and Pennsylvania, 1911; Central, 1912 and Inter-State in 1913.

Middle Ages

The two game U. of Michigan-Western Michigan baseball series this weekend recalls to Tub Thumpher Homer Dunham the first meeting between those schools in 1915. . . . Two budding major league hurlers, George Sisler and Ernie Koss, pitcher a 14-inning scoreless tie. . . . The 47-year old manager had suffered severe dizzy spells Monday and yesterday and his physician ordered him to bed pending a diagnosis. He expected to accompany the Sox to Cleveland tonight.

Bucky Walters

First to Win Ten Games

Has Started 12 Games and Completed Eleven

By Joe Reichler
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bucky Walters of the Cincinnati Reds became the first major league pitcher to win 10 games this season when he hurled the Cincinnati Reds to a 3-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates in 11 innings.

Including last night's game, the Reds' brilliant righthander has started 12 games and completed 11 of them. Only Jim Tobin of the Boston Braves has pitched more complete games, 12.

Walters has hurled 114 innings in which he has allowed 22 runs and 74 hits, an average of less than six hits and 1.65 runs per game.

In all three games chalked up against him as losses, he pitched 24 innings in which the Reds failed to score a single run for him.

Every time they did manage to score for him, he captured the game. Besides just missing a perfect game against Boston, Walters has pitched three shutouts.

The Reds had to come from behind to win yesterday's game. After the Pirates had gone ahead with a single tally in the 11th, Steve Mesner tripped, Eddie Miller followed with a double to score Mesner, and Woody Williams singled in Miller with the winning run.

Red Sox Win Two

The Boston Red Sox won their seventh and eighth straight by capturing both games of a double header from the Philadelphia Athletics 6-4 and 5-0. Francis (Red) Barrett won the opener in relief for his first major league victory and Pinky Woods hurled a six-hit shut-out in the nightcap. The double win moved them one game behind the league leading St. Louis Browns.

The New York Yankees ended a seven game losing streak by whipping the Washington Senators 6-2 behind Walter Dubiel's five-hit pitching. The victory hurled the Yankees back into the first division in fourth place.

The Detroit Tigers took both ends of a twin bill from the Cleveland Indians 3-0 and 11-3. Rufe Gentry, who broke into the majors last year with a 1-0 victory over the Indians, duplicated the shutout in the opener, scattering six hits. Hal Newhouser won his ninth game in the nightcap, more than any other American league hurler.

The league leading Browns overhauled the Jimmy Dykes-less Chicago White Sox 10-3. Nelson Potter hung up his seventh victory of the season, aided by Al Zarilla who banged out four hits, including a double and a triple.

The National league leaders, the St. Louis Cardinals, had to come from behind twice to defeat the tail-end Chicago Cubs 10-9. Mort Cooper started but was kayoed in the second inning and Fred Schmidt won his first major league victory in relief.

Brooklyn at New York and Boston at Philadelphia in the National league were postponed due to rain.

Sampson, N. Y., naval training center. . . . As he went to the plate the first time, a teammate remarked: "You ought to hit the devil out of this sore-armed semipro pitcher." . . . Hazen did, a 400-foot homer on the first pitch. . . . After he circled the bases a veteran commented: "All you needed was to hit against some good big league pitcher." . . . When Hazen learned the Sampson pitcher was Hal White, formerly of the Tigers, he became jittery and popped up on the next try. . . . "I was so busy studying that big leaguer's style I just couldn't keep my eye on the ball," he explained. . . . Last Saturday Prexy Shag Shaughnessy of the International league fined Baltimore's Blas Monaco 25 bucks for some slight offense. That night Monaco socked two homers and the next day he hit another. . . . And Shaughnessy wasn't pitching, either.

Thousands At Celebration Of Flag Day

Patriotic Talks And Music By Coast Guard Band

At the annual flag day program
sponsored by the Sedalia lodge
No. 125, B. P. O. Elks in Liberty park Wednesday night, a crowd of several thousand, some estimating it to be 5,000, turned out for an evening highlighted by a concert presented by the Ninth Naval District Coast Guard band, from St.
Louis.

The seats around the band shell were quickly filled and as cars poured into the park grounds every spot within hearing distance was occupied before the concert was finished. The band members were delayed nearly 40 minutes in getting to the park, because of motor trouble on their special bus. The equipment and men were transferred to Sedalia
Bus Co. busses for the trip from the hotel.

Following the national anthem, the Rev. Samuel Jensen, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church and publicity director of the Fifth War Loan in Pettis county, delivered the invocation. The band played
"March of the Steelman" and the theme from the introduction to the third act of "Lohengrin."

Gene Sheeley, musician 2/c, was horn soloist. Later in the program his original composition, "SPARS Stars and Stripes" was featured.

Full Appreciation Expressed
C. L. Hanley, county chairman for the War Loan drive, offered his congratulations to the people in their recent splendid response to the successful seven hour campaign. "Only three hours were required for putting us over the top in reality," he revealed. He introduced Mrs. Chester Wright, in charge of the women's division,
Ben P. Robinson, city chairman,
Ewd. P. Mullaley, E. C. Hamilton, county chairman outside of Sedalia, and the Rev. Jensen was cheered for his work in directing publicity.

The Rev. Clyde S. Sherman pastor of the First Christian church, was presented as master of ceremonies. He thanked all the participating organizations for their cooperation in the evening's program—the Boy Scouts, American Legion, State Guard, V. F. W. and many others.

History Of The Flag
Hugo Spahn, chairman of the Elks' arrangement committee for the flag day observance, was introduced. He presented Henry C.
Salveter, exalted ruler of the local lodge who gave a review of the history of the American flag.

The evolution of the American flag and the evolution of the

First Photo of 'Black Widow' Night Fighter

ered with two Pratt & Whitney engines, "Black Widow" is literally a flying gun platform, and with twin fuselage is reminiscent of the P-38. It is built at Hawthorne, Calif. (NEA Telephoto)

American government have been simultaneous and identical, he pointed out. The flag has been an inspiration to the American fighting men in all the struggles for freedom—from the war of 1812, in which Francis S. Key was inspired toward the writing of the national anthem until the present day.

"The flag symbolizes history, declaration and prophecy," he declared. "The Elks lodge carries the flag as its symbol just as does the nation, linking the destiny of the order with the destiny of the country—it stands first with the
B. P. O. E. as it stands first with Americans," Salveter said in concluding remarks.

Lt. Huckabee Tells Of Air Raids
The Rev. Sherman then introduced the principal speaker of the evening, Lt. Allen B. Huckabee, of the U. S. air corps, who held the evening, Lt. Allen B. Huckabee, of rapt attention of his listeners in an account of his overseas experiences on a B-17 Flying Fortress in the North African and Silian campaigns. He went on 34 sorties (individual flights) over enemy territory.

Here is his story, in brief, minus
details:
We went in December, 1942,
through the South American route, into Africa and landed in Dakar where we were engaged in the battle for Casablanca. The whole thing to us was like a big game of football. We had confidence in our bombings of Rommel.

The truth is that many of our bombers lacked equipment—lacked guns. We went through 52 degrees-below-zero weather in mountainous regions at an altitude of 25,000 feet on our missions, operating by pin-point precision bombing. We lost lots of ships in our destruction of military objectives.

I am proud of my medals, the Silver Star for destroying five German planes in one day, the Distinguished Flying Cross for destroying a 100-octane gasoline plant, the air medal with 14 clusters, a pre-Pearl Harbor ribbon, and others.

On Horrible Mission
I want to tell you about the last and most horrible mission I ever experienced or ever will experience, a raid at 25,000 feet over a Sicilian airport, July 5, 1943. We proceeded over the target without escorts, 48 planes of us close together. We ran into a strip of flak, our most deadly obstacle, 15-miles in length. We managed to fly through and drop our bombs and then to turn back dropping 1500 feet to evade the lowering flak.

Then 200 enemy fighters came in on us at one time, both German and Italian. We stayed in formation as best as possible, but we were soon hit. Our No. 4 engine went out. We couldn't feather the engine. The plane on our right was on fire and went down after exploding. The plane on the left was a mass of fire. Men who were able to bail out were shot as they approached the ground.

Five of the men on my ship were killed. The rest of us had to bail out. Four are still prisoners of the Germans. The radio gunner and I later rejoined our men.
I had 25 pieces of flak in my back and a 9-inch cannon hole in one hip. The Germans were nice to me, but they had no anaesthet-ics. I went through operations in their hospitals without anything but two shots of morphine.

They asked me many questions.
One man turned out to be a graduate of an American university, who knew more about our operations than I did. He had been a German officer for all the 17 years he lived in this country. Watch what you say. There are thousands of German spies over here now.
Don't tell where your sons are.
Button your lips.

Here is a tip on morale-building.
You have no idea what the men are going through over there.
Write cheerful letters, and many letters, even if you have to lie!
I believe the war will last

ped with throat microphone and earphones through which he Reports from the China-Burma-India front tell of the evacuation of wounded by helicopter out of jungle-bound areas where conventional aircraft could not operate. These photos, taken at the Wright Field, Ohio, show how this fantastic craft, developed by the AAF Materiel Command and built by Sikorsky, is used. Note

Clark Pledges Support To FDR

BOONVILLE, Mo., June 15.—
(AP)—U. S. Sen. Bennett C. Clark
Wednesday night pledged "sincere support" of President Roosevelt in his prosecution of the war and in formulation of a plan for lasting peace.

It was Clark's first campaign declaration on international issues
—on which Attorney General Roy McKittick has pitched his challenge of Clark's bid for Democratic renomination. McKittick has called Clark an "isolationist" and charged him with opposing the President and with voting against pre-war preparedness measures.

In his prepared address, Clark praised Mr. Roosevelt's prosecution of the war and declared:
"In these efforts he is entitled to the support of every American."

"So far as I am concerned, he has had and will continue to have another two years in Germany!

There is much more to be done.

bond drive.

Ray Olsen, baritone vocalist, sang "Ol' Man River," and was called back with encore numbers of "Night and Day" and "Stout-hearted Men." A medley of service songs by the band concluded the program.

The Coast Guardsmen joined many Sedalians at Convention Hall for a dance, with music by the Elks Flag Day orchestra. The hall was decorated in red, white and blue streamers.

Clark predicted "when hostilities are ended, President Roosevelt will help formulate and submit a plan that will guide the people of the world, insofar as is humanly possible, in the abolition of war."

Clark said a war veterans' benefit bill recently passed by congress

help in the "successful reintegration of these returning warriors into the civilian population" and advocated "early action by congress" on other domestic post-war

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you uncomfortable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pen and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and distress. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Giant Fortresses Raid Heart of Japan

Americans Again Advance In France

Developing A Drive To Cut Off And Take Cherbourg Peninsula

By JAMES M. LONG
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Friday, June 16.—(P)—American troops slashing westward from Carentan on a 10-mile front have reached firm ground within six miles of La Haye Du Puits, junction of the last German-held railway line to the port of Cherbourg, and within 4½ miles of the secondary junction point of St. Saviour-Le-Comte in what was officially described today as "steady progress."

A Reuters news agency dispatch from France said the Americans had captured Reigneville, three miles east of St. Saviour-Le-Comte. Supreme headquarters had no confirmation of this report but said there might be patrol activity in that direction.

In the developing drive to cut off and capture the Cherbourg peninsula, similar steady advances were reported in a midnight communiqué from supreme headquarters for a less clearly-defined thrust through the lowlands between the Vire and Elbe rivers southeast of Carentan.

This advance appeared to be aimed towards St. Jean De Daye, on the highway linking St. Lo and Carentan. Extent of the gain was not disclosed officially, but it appeared probable that the road already had been cut about five miles west of Lison.

Take Coastal Village
On the extreme right flank of the Allied beachhead in Normandy, American capture of the coastal village of Quineville and surrounding territory was declared to have provided "a valuable new outlet from the beaches."

On the eastern, or left, wing of the beachhead, held by British and Canadian forces, violent German armored counterattacks were repulsed with what the Allied communiqué called "considerable loss to the enemy."

These were the principal gains in the tenth day of the Allied invasion of France, which saw the offensive all along the 100-mile lines gather force and either gain ground or repel the fiery and repeated enemy counterattacks.

Pay Back Taxes; Get Auto Licenses

The deadline for having 1944 city license stickers for motor vehicles has been extended to today by city officials, because of the time consumed in checking back taxes as applicants appeared at City Collector Charles P. Keck's office in the city hall.

The city council passed an ordinance August 16, 1943, making it compulsory that personal taxes be paid before the 1944 city licenses are issued. Check-backs on delinquencies extend so as much as five years.

As a result of this new ruling, a comparison revealed Thursday night that in the 30-day period from May 15 to June 15 last year personal taxes collected totaled $627.42, while this year's collections in the corresponding period are nearly double that amount, totaling $1229.72.

A long line of motor car drivers waited turns all day Thursday to purchase the licenses which went on sale May 15. The deadline was set for June 15.

By Thursday evening at a special 6 o'clock closing hour 1,498 passenger car stickers had been sold and 221 truck licenses.

The licenses may still be bought today, pursuant to the paying of city taxes, at the regular office hours, 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Chief of Police Anson Fennell warns after today motorists are subject to arrest for not having 1944 city license stickers affixed to trucks or passenger cars.

His widow, Mrs. Arlene Findley Garrett, resides at Walla Walla, Wash.

Wm. C. Weer Run Over by Train, Killed

Retired M.K.T. Engineer, Came to Sedalia in 1896

William C. "Bill" Weer, 74 years old, retired Missouri-Kansas-Texas engineer, was killed about 7:15 o'clock Thursday morning when run over by the first section of M-K-T freight No. 72, north bound, in the yards between Fifth street and Broadway. His body was discovered by a brakeman a few seconds after the train had started moving to leave Sedalia.

According to information given officials, Mr. Weer was lying face down, his head and shoulders inside the rails and the lower part of the body lying outside, and west of the rails. One of the brakemen, in the vicinity heard a noise and upon investigating, found the body. He immediately stopped the train.

The train had stopped for water for the engine at the depot. Apparently one or two trucks had passed over the body when it was discovered, it was said. The accident occurred about 250 feet north of the Broadway overpass.

Conductor McCalahan, and Engineer Phillips, both of New Franklin were in charge of the train.

Coroner Called
Dr. W. T. Bishop, coroner, was notified and after conducting his investigation said he did not feel it necessary to hold an investigation. Police were also notified and made an investigation.

The body was removed to the Gillespie funeral home. Mr. Weer, had worked for the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad since 1896, as an engineer. He came to Sedalia from the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia, Pa., bringing to this division the first of the latest type locomotives of that time. July 1, 1937 he retired.

He began his railroad career, firing for his father, at St. Paul, Minn., and was an engineer on the Northern Pacific and the Chicago Northwestern.

Since April 25, Mr. Weer had been rooming with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Foster at their home, 416 East Sixth street.

Seen Around Depot
Mr. and Mrs. Foster explained that since Mr. Weer had been residing with them that he retired early, and arose early in the morning, taking a walk and going down town to eat his breakfast.

He was seen in the morning at the M-K-T depot about the time passenger train No. 5 arrived and departed, and visited with friends about the station. He was around the depot until a short time before he was found on the tracks.

Mr. Weer had planned a trip to Portland, Ore., to visit with relatives and was to leave Monday. He was to have been met in Kansas City by his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Hankla, Tulsa, Okla., who was to accompany him. They expected to be gone for approximately three months. Their reservations had been completed and ready for the trip and Mr. Weer had obtained a large sum of money in the form of travelers checks to be taken with him.

The reservations, checks and other personal belongings were found intact in his room.

Here Since 1897
Mr. Weer was married in St. Paul, Minn., January 26, 1893, to Miss Emma Guenther. They came to Sedalia in 1897. Mrs. Weer passed away January 25, this year. Mr. Weer then sold their home, on West Fifth street.

He leaves his daughter, Mrs. Hankla, who left Tulsa immediately for Sedalia, and a son, Mark Weer, in San Bernardino, Calif., and two grandchildren.

Billy Hankla, in the U. S. Navy, and Gary Hankla, of San Bernardino.

Bombers Of RAF Follow Up Day Attack

American Planes Down 24 Aircraft Of The Germans

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Friday, June 16.—(P)—Continuing the around-the-clock aerial punishment of Nazi targets in France, a tremendous force of RAF bombers thundered across the channel during the night in a spectacular sequel to widespread daylight operations in which 5,000 planes, including 1,300 U. S. heavy bombers, took part.

The RAF armada making the latest assault on the Germans' invasion defenses was so large it took an hour and a half to pass across England's southern coast. The roar of engines was as great as Wednesday night when 1,100 RAF planes delivered the heaviest aerial bombardment in history against Le Harve and other points on the French coast.

After the first big RAF night raiders had passed out of view last night flashes and explosions in the direction of Boulogne indicated that another vital Nazi port on the French coast was getting a blasting.

Aged Negro Killer To Gas Chamber

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 16.—(Friday)—(P)—After seven reprieves, 73-year-old Allen Lambus finally was executed in Missouri's lethal gas chamber early today for the hay-hook slaying of a teen-age Negro girl.

He was the 15th killer to be executed in the state's six-year-old lethal gas chamber.

Lambus pleaded guilty nearly a year ago in Mississippi county court of killing a Negro girl who resisted his alleged advances. Circuit Judge J. C. McDowell sentenced him to death.

Then began a series of legal maneuvers in which his attorneys vainly tried the state supreme court, the federal district court, and finally the United States supreme court.

A. L. McCawley, who handled most of the appeals, contended the illiterate old Negro did not understand the importance of his confession and did not have proper legal counsel in circuit court.

Gov. Forrest C. Donnell repeatedly postponed Lambus' execution to permit full opportunity for the courts to study his case.

Finland Pays On World War I Debt

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—Finland paid $148,445.06 into the United States treasury today, representing the regular semi-annual payment on her World War I debt to this country.

Official Count To Determine Winner

BOISE, Idaho, June 15.—(P)—Senator D. Worth Clark and former cowboy singer Glen H. Taylor waged a shoulder-to-shoulder race for Democratic senatorial nomination as returns continued to trickle in tonight from Idaho's primary election. It was apparent that only the official canvass of voters June 24 could determine the winner.

Unofficial returns from 746 of the state's 845 precincts gave Taylor 10,221 votes to 10,173 for Clark. Taylor trailed Clark by 10 votes earlier in the day. The winner will face Gov. C. A. Bottfisen, Republican nominee.

Advance Plan For Peace

Postwar Aims In Statement From The White House

By HOWARD FLIEGER
WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—An American plan to keep the postwar world at peace through an international organization—backed by the arms of peaceful nations if necessary—was made public by President Roosevelt today after a year and a half of Allied discussions.

The administration aims, set out in a White House statement:

1. An organization, composed of all "peace-loving" nations, to keep world "peace-loving."
2. A world council, elected annually by the participating nations, to settle international disputes. It would include "the four major nations" (presumably the United States, Great Britain, Russia and China) and "a suitable number of other nations."

3. An international court to handle justifiable disputes.
4. The maintenance of sufficient armed strength by the individual nations to put down, by joint action, any future aggressions.

There was nothing in today's statement to indicate the attitude of other Allies toward the White House blueprint, drafted after frequent conferences among the President, the state department, members of congress and private groups.

In congress, there were expressions of approval from a number of Democrats and Republicans for the principles proposed by Mr. Roosevelt. However, Senator Ball (R-Minn.) said "it sounds like another League of Nations without even as strong a commitment as was contained in the League Covenant."

Broad Responsibility
Mr. Roosevelt's statement was released after a conference today with Secretary of State Hull, Undersecretary Stettinius, Dr. Isaiah Bowman and Leo Pasvolosky, state department experts on international geography and economics.

"It is our thought that the organization would be a fully representative body," he said. (Please turn to page 4, col. 1)

Beachheads On Saipan Island Are Secured

Invaders Make Progress Facing Heavy Fire

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—American invaders of 'Saipan, strategic Pacific island only 1,500 miles southeast of Tokyo, have secured beachheads and are making "good progress" in the face of artillery and tank fire. Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced tonight.

"In general fighting is heavy but good progress is being made against well organized defenses," Nimitz said.

The text of his communiqué, No. 50 of Pacific fleet headquarters: "Assault troops have secured beachheads on Saipan Island and are advancing inland against artillery, mortar and machine gun fire."

"Virtually all heavy coastal and anti-aircraft batteries on the island were knocked out by naval gun fire and bombing. Our troops have captured Aginan Point."

"In the town of Charan, Kanoa, brisk fighting is continuing."

"The enemy has attempted several counter attacks with tanks. These attacks have been broken up by our troops with the support of ships and aircraft."

"In general, fighting is heavy but good progress is being made against well organized defenses." Aginan Point is on the southwestern tip of the island. Charan Kanoa is one of the few sizeable communities on the island.

The assault on Saipan, Japanese air and naval base, was launched Wednesday morning after intensive preparatory bombing and bombardment of it and neighboring Japanese defense points.

Fight Way Ashore

By LEIF ERIKSSON
U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, June 15.—(P)—American amphibious forces are fighting their way ashore on Saipan Island, Japanese air and naval base in the Marianas against strong opposition in a daring bid for a foothold about 1,500 miles from Japan and the Philippines.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced this most audacious move yet against Japanese territory shortly after the War Department reported that super fortresses of a strategic world-girdling air force had bombed Japan's homeland.

Nimitz reported the first landings on Saipan were made Wednesday morning under cover of a bombardment by United States.

'Hitler Doom' Bill To Senate

House Passes A $49,109,002,759 Measure For Army

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—Spurred by news of the super-fortress bombing of Japan, the house unanimously passed a $49,109,002,759 "Hitler doom" bill for the army today and sent it to the senate.

At the same time the senate completed legislative approval of history's biggest navy appropriation—$327,569,000,000 in cash and $5,000,000,000 in contract authorization—and sped it to the White House. Senator Overton (D-La.) estimated this would keep America's big sea force steaming full speed even though the war lasts longer than is expected.

The largest allotment in the army supply measure, $12,610,200,000, was earmarked for the air forces, whose big B-29 bombers may have been over the Japanese homeland even as the house acted. A roll call vote followed demands that never again should "impractical, idealistic, suicidal pacifism" be allowed to gain a foothold in this country.

For The "K. O." Punch
Rep. Snyder, (D-Pa.) told the house that the big bill, largest this year but billions below record War Department appropriations of previous years, would provide the "knockout punch" against Hitler and Tojo.

It was, he added the "Hitler doom" bill. It carries $15,436,031,795 in new funds over the fiscal year starting July 1 and $33,672,971,000 left over from the $74,211,249,961 appropriated for the current year. It raises to an estimated $390,000,000,000 war and defense obligations voted since July 1, 1940.

Snyder, chairman of the appropriations subcommittee that drafted the bill, expressed what he termed the "hope" of military leaders that 1944 will see Germany knocked out and Japan softened for the "doom that shortly will follow."

U. S. B-29s Super-Planes Had Tokyo Their Chief Target

Tokyo Claims Six Bombers Of U. S. Downed

Some Fires Were Started The Nipponese Admit

NEW YORK, June 15.—(P)—Japanese imperial headquarters said in a broadcast communiqué tonight that about 20 B-29 and B-24 bombers from the "China area" had raided northern Kyushu six hours earlier, the federal communications commission reported. The communiqué, contained in a Domei agency broadcast from Tokyo, said:

"Today, June 16, at about 2 a. m. from the China area, about 20 B-29 (super Fortresses) and B-24 (Liberators) planes raided the northern Kyushu sector. Our western air defense forces immediately intercepted and repulsed them, shooting down several. Our losses were negligible."

An earlier Tokyo broadcast made just ahead of the communiqué, claimed that six of the American planes were shot down, and named the city of Yawata, situated on a narrow strait across from the great Japanese naval base of Shimonoeki, as one of the principal targets.

The communiqué was broadcast in Romanized Japanese to occupied areas, the FCC said, while the Tokyo radio's first statement came in an English language broadcast beamed to the United States. This broadcast said the raiders concentrated their attacks on industrial areas of Moji and Shimonoeki.

Fires Were Started
The broadcast declared that "the damages incurred on our side were negligible and of no military importance." It said that two or three fires were started in comparatively unimportant centers but that they were quickly extinguished.

Kyushu is the southernmost unit in the island group forming the Japanese homeland.

"Quick and effective interception by the Japanese defense" resulted in the shooting down of six of the attacking bombers, Tokyo said, adding, "Japanese pilots who engaged the raiders also disclosed that among the enemy planes shot down were the new B-29 super bombers."

The announcement was broadcast under the title: "Latest developments of news of the world," the FCC reported.

The Japanese announcement said the raid "did not work according to the original plans of the enemy."

The Tokyo broadcast came almost six hours after the announcement of the raid by the War Department in Washington.

Description Of B-29's Briefly Told

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—Here is the Boeing B-29 Super Fortress in brief:

Wing span—141.2 feet.
Length—98 feet.
Height—27 feet.
Weight—"Very heavy".

Armament—50 calibre guns in power turrets and a 20 mm. cannon.

Armor—Heavily armored. Engines—Four engines of 2,200 horsepower, each with two superchargers.

Speed—"Compares favorably with latest fighters." Bomb load, range and ceiling—Exceed that of any other airplane.

Design—Cylindrical, mid-wing, single tail, tricycle landing gear.

By comparison, the B-29's little brother, the Boeing B-17 Flying Fortress, with a wing span of 104 feet, is 75 feet long and 19 feet high, weighs around 60,000 pounds, has four engines each rated at 1,200 horsepower, carries thirteen .50 calibre guns, armor is installed separately, speed is around 300 miles an hour, normal bomb load is three tons, tactical radius of action is 700 miles and ceiling is over 30,000 feet.

Evident "Great Destruction" In Tokyo Result Of The Attack

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—Japan was bombed today by America's new super-planes, the B-29s, and Congress heard that Tokyo suffered "great destruction."

The war department disclosed at 1:39 p. m., Eastern War Time, that the long-secret flying giants had gone into action. The announcement said:

"B-29 super fortresses of the United States army air forces 20th bomber command bombed Japan today."

To this was added some time later that the planes flew to the attack from the China-India-Burma theater.

Then Rep. Starnes (D-La.) arose in the house to tell his colleagues that the target of the raid was Tokyo proper. A good source informed him, he said, that a large number of American planes were causing "great destruction" in Tokyo.

It was the second American bombing of Japan, but the first announcement of action by the B-29s.

House and senate sessions were halted for announcement of the news. Senator Pepper (D-La.) told his colleagues he was "sure of the heart-felt thanks of congress and the country go out" to those who made the attack possible.

Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.) said the news vindicated the wisdom of congress in furnishing funds for the giant new bombers.

Bombs On Large Cities
Rep. Manasco (D-La.) said the war department advised him the B-29's "bombed several large cities" on the mainland of Japan but there was no information yet on the results.

Manasco said the assumption could be that the reference was made to Tokyo and Yokohama.

"It is now officially confirmed that American super fortresses flying from remote bases have successfully bombed Tokyo in a very heavy raid," Starnes told the house.

"It can be safely assumed that these were the new B-29's."

"It may be safely assumed that these planes approached Tokyo at an altitude of more than 30,000 feet and a speed of more than 300 miles per hour with the heaviest bomb loads and the greatest armaments of any airplanes in the world."

Commend Bond Drive Enterprise

Messages, Phone Calls, Letters Congratulating County Citizens

Letters, telegrams, and long distance phone calls from all the Missouri bond drive headquarters in Kansas City, St. Louis, and Columbia, congratulating citizens of Pettis county on the successful seven-hour bond drive last Friday, have been pouring into Bond headquarters in Sedalia. C. L. Hanley, chairman of the Pettis County War Finance committee, announced last Friday evening that Pettis county had gone over a million dollars in the Fifth War Loan when the quota expected was $895,000 and the news of the rapid bond drive spread over the state. The news was flashed by wire from St. Louis, Missouri State War Finance headquarters, to the Treasury Department in Washington.

C. L. Hanley, chairman of the local drive, expressed his sincere appreciation to all Pettis county organizations and residents for their unselfish support of the Fifth War Loan drive. "The unusual success of the drive can be credited to the many workers who organized and conducted the seven-hour drive and also to every person who bought a bond. It is impossible to name everyone who worked for the goal, but to everyone the committee wishes to express its gratitude."

Telegram From Hill

A telegram from Robert E. L. "Bob" Hill, outstate chairman of the Missouri War Finance committee, said: "Missouri is proud of the good folks of Sedalia and Pettis county for the marvelous achievement which has brought you national recognition. Your performance has been a great incentive to others. Please express my thanks to Ben Robinson, the women's chairman (Mrs. Chester A. Wright), the publicity and speakers' chairman and others."

From the office of the state chairman, War Finance Committee, Kansas City, came a letter from Kearney Wornall, director of sales, in which he expressed his sincere congratulations and concluded by saying: "We are almost as glad here as you must be."

Ed Houx, Warrensburg, chairman of Group 10, Missouri War Finance committee, wrote the following note to C. L. Hanley: "You sure deserve a lot of congratulations. The whole state is talking about how you sold a million dollars worth of bonds in one day. More power to you. We are all proud of your fine success."

"I think we had all better come to Sedalia and take some lessons from you."

"Sincerely, Ed Houx."

Many Pettis Countians, who bought bonds last Friday will have to wait two or three weeks before receiving their bonds, said C. L. Hanley. "The banks are overflowing with bond applications and a great deal of time is required to make out each bond. In all the banks of Sedalia the clerks are working to capacity in writing the bonds. Buyers will receive their bonds as rapidly as they are prepared and they will be dated June 9th, if the bond was purchased during the seven-hour campaign."

I'll write a letter later and tell about these many Chinese customs, beliefs etc., as they really have some odd ways. For instance, one American dollar is equal to about two hundred Chinese dollars and it seems so funny to pay from two to three hundred dollars for a meal or $50 to $100 for a 'ricksha' ride. DeGaulle To Behind Lines of Allied Armies

Indicated An Effort Be Made To Bring Harmony

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
LONDON, June 14.—(P)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle landed on the Normandy beachhead behind the lines of the Allied armies of liberation today and a De Gaullist spokesman insisted that the French were not to blame for a shortage of liaison officers in the invasion. It was understood in London that De Gaulle crossed the channel on the French destroyer La Combattante while Prime Minister Churchill was side-stepping in the house of commons a debate on the issue of recognizing his committee of national liberation as the provisional government of France.

Supreme headquarters Allied expeditionary force announced simply: "It can now be said that General De Gaulle has landed in Normandy."

De Gaulle was accompanied by French army and navy staff officers, it was learned, and they were welcomed by British officers of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's headquarters.

From the beachhead, he toured liberated towns and villages.

A Washington report that the French leader had suddenly cancelled orders for several hundred French officers to land with the first waves in the invasion was described by his press attache as "most incredible" because, he said, no agreement had been reached.

"We negotiated several months with the Allies prior to the invasion," he said, "but as the whole world knows we reached no agreement with the American government or with the Allied commanders either on the government of the liberated territories or on sending liaison officers with the invasion forces."

"As to reports that cooperation between the French population and the Allied armies had been impaired—that is quite possible, but it is not our fault."

A De Gaulle authority said the general landed with a large party of Fighting French and other French officials.

He said the trip was made with the approval of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and that other details probably would not be made available until after De Gaulle's return to England, expected tomorrow.

It was believed at supreme headquarters that the French leader, under sentence of death passed by the Vichy government for his work abroad in the last four years, went to his homeland to offer help in smoothing relations between the Allies and the French people.

Complain On Cancellation

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(P)—United States officials complained today that Gen. Charles De Gaulle suddenly cancelled orders for several hundred French officers to land in Normandy with the first Allied invasion waves. De Gaulle's headquarters quickly replied that it never entered any agreement to send the officers.

High authorities here declared De Gaulle was flatly refusing cooperation asked by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. They said arrangements had been made to send 300 to 500 French officers with the Allied invasion forces, to act as liaison men with the French population, but that De Gaulle balked at the last moment and allowed only 20 to go. This, it was said, impaired the liaison between the Allied forces and the French population.

British-American relations with De Gaulle have gone downhill steadily, in the opinion of military and diplomatic experts here, since the French leader arrived in London 10 days ago to seek a more prominent place in Allied councils.

Highly placed officials say that prospects for a successful conference here between the chief of the French national committee and President Roosevelt late this month or in July are getting dimmer by the hour.

Concerned Army Relations

The cooperation Eisenhower has asked and De Gaulle has refused is concerned with problems of relations between British and American invasion armies and the people of France.

But the key piece in the French leader's conduct to date, it was said, was his decision in the final critical hours before the invasion to let no more than twenty specially trained French officers take part.

Between 300 and 500 officers had been trained to act as liaison between the troops and the civilian population. These plans, officials here said, had been worked out in detail with representatives of the French national committee in accordance with long-understood arrangements.

De Gaulle arrived in London two days before D-day and sought recognition for the French committee as provisional government of metropolitan France. When he found British and American policy against recognition, it is reported that he suddenly cancelled the orders of the liaison officers.

Reports reaching here said members of the invasion general staff finally prevailed on him, however, to let 20 make the trip. Disclosure of this incident, described here as impairing Eisenhower's position in dealing with the French population, came at a critical moment in Allied-French relations. Prime Minister Winston Churchill declined in parliament, London dispatches said, to debate the French question, declaring that "it would do more harm than good now."

At the same time Churchill took a more hopeful view of future relations with the committee than could be found in well informed not seek to delay the debate, "if quarters here. He said he would it had no hopes of a better solution than I can announce at the present time."

SIGINY, France, June 14.—(P)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle visited his homeland today for the first time in four years and countrymen lined the streets of beachhead villages shouting his name.

The ovation was dramatic. The tall, lean leader of the French committee of national liberation appeared unexpectedly, but news of his trip across the channel swept through Allied-held territory in a few hours. Wherever he went, crowds gathered to catch a glimpse of him and call greetings.

Tighten Up on Magazine News

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(P)—Director Elmer Davis of the Office of War Information was disclosed today to have laid down a "tighter editorial control" over the contents of magazines OWI publishes for overseas distribution.

Acting Chairman McKeller (D-Tenn.) of the senate appropriations committee had criticized a recent issue of Victory Magazine, an OWI publication printed in several foreign languages, for an article which he said led people to think that United States is promising relief to "take care of 20,000,000 people, wandering homeless in Europe."

Davis, in a statement to the committee, said he had reviewed the story in question and was "in agreement with the committee that the article did go too far."

"As a result, we are setting up a tighter editorial control of the contents of our magazines," Davis added.

McKeller's statement and Davis' reply were contained in testimony released after executive hearings on the 1,027,518,000 war agencies appropriation bill containing $58,625,000 for the OWI, an increase of about $20,000,000 over the current year's appropriation. The measure has been approved by the house.

Fifth Army Takes Junction

By Lynn Heinzerling

ROME, June 14.—(P)—Fifth army elements have swung around the heavily-defended strong point of Orbetello, 71 miles northwest of Rome, and captured the important junction of highways No. 1 and 74; some four and a half miles beyond the town. Allied headquarters announced today.

Reconnaissance elements pushed still further north.

(This movement presumably blocked the retreat route of the Germans defending Orbetello.)

To the east the Eighth army advanced 60 miles north of Rome. Gains also were made both east and west of Lake Bolsena and Allied troops were closing in on Narni, seven and a half miles below Terni and 43 miles due north of Rome.

The town of Latera, four miles northeast of Valentano, was gathered in by Fifth army units and the advance moved on toward Gradoli, less than two miles farther northeast.

Other Fifth army forces were closing in on Bolsena, on the eastern shore of the lake.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(P)—The navy announced tonight that 27 men were killed, 100 are missing and 380 were wounded in an explosion that destroyed several small landing craft in Pearl Harbor May 21.

At the same time it reported that a magazine at the ammunition depot at Oahu Island exploded last Sunday, killing three men. Seven others are missing as a result of this accident.

U. S. Had 1,300 Ships In Invasion

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—

Navy Secretary Forrestal reported Wednesday that the United States naval task force engaged in the invasion of France included more than 1,300 warships of all types.

In the giant armada, he said, were the battleships Nevada, Arkansas, and Texas; the cruisers Augusta, Tuscaloosa, and Quincy; and "more than 30 destroyers."

Despite the great size of the fleet pounding European shores, he said, the Pacific offensive "has not been and will not be diminished by our naval effort in Europe."

On the contrary, Forrestal said, "at the moment of Germany's greatest crisis, Japan is being too hard pressed to lend any diversionary support."

He cited the attacks on the Pacific Marianas Islands as an indication of the "accelerated offensive in the Pacific."

Fresh Finnish Troops To Defense

LONDON, Thursday, June 15.—(P)—

Fresh Finnish troops have been thrown into the defense of the Karelian Isthmus and are now locked in a mighty struggle about 25 miles south of Viipuri, Finland's second largest city, Moscow indicated today.

Evidence of the ferocity of the battle on Russia's northern front was contained in the midnight supplement to the Soviet communiqué which said that one unit of the Red army "wiped out in three days 3,000 of the enemy, destroyed 30 guns and 80 machine-guns and captured 70 other guns."

Thousands At Celebration Of Flag Day

Patriotic Talks And Music By Coast Guard Band

At the annual flag day program sponsored by the Sedalia lodge No. 125, B. P. O. Elks in Liberty park Wednesday night, a crowd of several thousand, some estimating it to be 5,000, turned out for an evening highlighted by a concert presented by the Ninth Naval District Coast Guard band, from St. Louis.

The seats around the band shell were quickly filled and as cars poured into the park grounds every spot within hearing distance was occupied before the concert was finished. The band members were delayed nearly 40 minutes in getting to the park, because of motor trouble on their special bus. The equipment and men were transferred to Sedalia Bus Co. busses for the trip from the hotel.

Following the national anthem, the Rev. Samuel Jensen, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church and publicity director of the Fifth War Loan in Pettis county, delivered the invocation. The band played "March of the Steelman" and the theme from the introduction to the third act of "Lohengrin."

Gene Sheeley, musician 2/c, was born soloist. Later in the program his original composition, "SPARS Stars and Stripes" was featured.

C. L. Hanley, county chairman for the War Loan drive, offered his congratulations to the people in their recent splendid response to the successful seven hour campaign. "Only three hours were required for putting us over the top in reality," he revealed. He introduced Mrs. Chester Wright, in charge of the women's division.

Ben P. Robinson, city chairman, Ewd. P. Mullaley, E. C. Hamilton, county chairman outside of Sedalia, and the Rev. Jensen were cheered for his work in directing publicity.

The Rev. Clyde S. Sherman pastor of the First Christian church, was presented as master of ceremonies. He thanked all the participating organizations for their cooperation in the evening's program—the Boy Scouts, American Legion, State Guard, V. F. W. and many others.

Hugo Sparr, chairman of the Elks' arrangement committee for the flag day observance, was introduced. He presented Henry C. Salveter, exalted ruler of the local lodge who gave a review of the history of the American flag.

The evolution of the American flag and the evolution of the American government have been simultaneous and identical, he pointed out. The flag has been an inspiration to the American fighting men in all the struggles for freedom—from the war of 1812, in which Francis S. Key was inspired toward the writing of the national anthem until the present day.

"The flag symbolizes history, declaration and prophecy," he declared. "The Elks lodge carries the flag as its symbol just as does the nation, linking the destiny of the order with the destiny of the country—it stands first with the B. P. O. E., as it stands first with Americans," Salveter said in concluding remarks.

Lt. Hukabee Tells Of Air Raids
The Rev. Sherman then introduced the principal speaker of the U. S. air corps, who held the evening, Lt. Allen B. Hukabee, of rapt attention of his listeners in an account of his overseas' experiences on a B-17 Flying Fortress in the North African and Sicilian campaigns. He went on 34 sorties (individual flights) over enemy territory.

Here is his story, in brief, minus details:
We went in December, 1942, through the South American route, into Africa and landed in Dakar where we were engaged in the battle for Casablanca. The whole thing to us was like a big game of football. We had confidence in our bombings of Rommel.

The truth is that many of our bombers lacked equipment—lacked guns. We went through 52 degrees-below-zero weather in mountainous regions at an altitude of 25,000 feet on our missions, operating by pin-point precision bombing. We lost lots of ships in our destruction of military objectives.

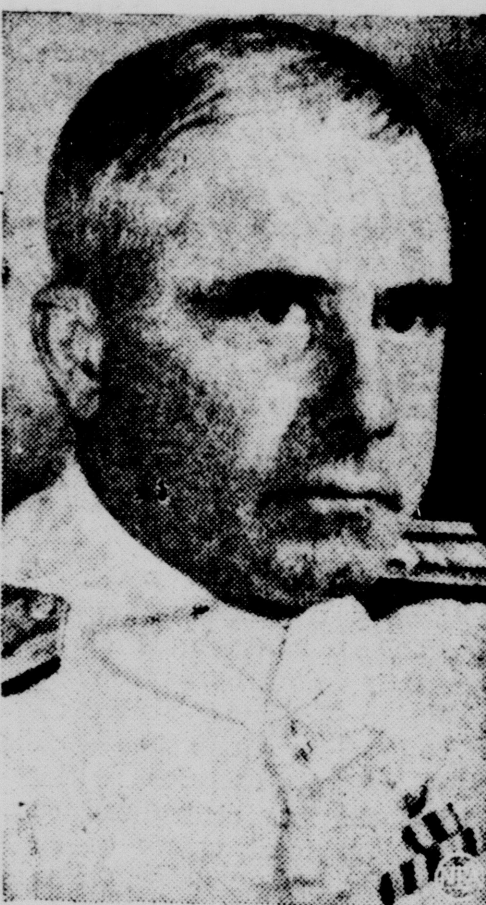

I am proud of my medals, the Silver Star for destroying five German planes in one day, the Distinguished Flying Cross for destroying a 100-octane gasoline plant, the air medal with 14 clusters, a pre-Pearl Harbor ribbon, and others.

On Horrible Mission

I want to tell you about the last and most horrible mission I ever experienced or ever will experience, a raid at 25,000 feet over a Sicilian airport, July 5, 1943. We proceeded over the target without escorts. 48 planes of us close together. We ran into a strip of flak, our most deadly obstacle, 15-miles in length. We managed to fly through and drop our bombs and then to turn back dropping 1500 feet to evade the lowering flak.

Then 200 enemy fighters came in on us at one time, both German and Italian. We stayed in formation as best as possible, but we were soon hit. Our No. 4 engine went out. We couldn't feather the engine. The plane on our right was on fire and went down after exploding. The plane on the left was a mass of fire. Men who were able to bail out were shot as they approached the ground.

Five of the men on my ship were killed. The rest of us had to bail out. Four are still prisoners of the Germans. The radio gunner and I later rejoined our men.

I had 25 pieces of flak in my back and a 9-inch cannon hole in one hip. The Germans were nice to me, but they had no anesthetics. I went through operations in their hospitals without anything but two shots of morphine.

They asked me many questions. One man turned out to be a graduate of an American university, who knew more about our operations than I did. He had been a German officer for all the 17 years he lived in this country. Watch what you say. There are thousands of German spies over here now. Don't tell where your sons are. Button your lips.

Here is a tip on morale-building. You have no idea what the men are going through over there. Write cheerful letters, and many letters, even if you have to lie!

I believe the war will last another two years in Germany! There is much more to be done. Share your dollars—you must in the Sixth, Seventh, even a Tenth bond drive.

Ray Olsen, baritone vocalist, sang "Oh! Man River," and was called back with encore numbers of "Night and Day" and "Stout-hearted Men." A medley of service songs by the band concluded the program.

The Coast Guardsmen joined many Sedalians at Convention Hall for a dance, with music by the Elks Flag Day orchestra. The hall was decorated in red, white and blue streamers.

Mickey Rooney Is Inducted Into Army

LOS ANGELES, June 15.—(P)—

Mickey Rooney, the ebullient 22-year-old film star, was inducted into the army Wednesday and sent to Fort MacArthur at nearby San Pedro for classification.

Mickey, who trades a film job paying him thousands weekly for an army private's $50 monthly, was rejected in March, 1943, on the grounds of a heart flutter and high blood pressure. He was reexamined and found satisfactory last March and granted a delay to complete pending films.

Rooney is the divorced husband of actress Ava Gardner.

There are more than 200 separate police forces in England.

All Star 'Grid' Game August 20

CHICAGO, June 14.—(P)—The 11th annual All-Star football game between a select group of college players and the Chicago Bears, champions of the national football league, will be played at Northwestern university's Dyche stadium the night of Aug. 30, Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, which sponsors the All-Star classic, said today.

Profits of the game, which last year exceeded $66,000, will be divided between the Army Air Force Aid Society and the Chicago Service Men's Centers.

The Bears, who beat Washington Redskins 41-21 last December to begin the pro championship, will again train at St. John's Military Academy, Delafield, Wis. The collegians will prepare for the contest at Northwestern, their base since the series started in 1934. A staff of five coaches picked from various sections of the country will handle the collegians.

"Several collegiate conferences again have approved the participation of undergraduates in the All Star game," Ward said. "This, of course, is an emergency measure which will be discontinued after the war. There will be no baling for players. A poll would be unfair to many of last year's headliners now in the service who might not be able to arrange a leave or furlough to participate in the game."

Ward said many of the top athletes of 1943 and 1942 have arranged to take their furloughs at All-Star game time and will be included on the roster.

Last year the All Stars, coached by a staff headed by Wisconsin's Harry Stuhldreher, whipped the Redskins 27-7.

Shelling Of The Marianas

Penetration Deep Into Jap Defenses By U. S. Forces

By LEIF ERICKSON

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, June 14.—(P)—Big guns of American naval task forces simultaneously shelled the southern Marianas Islands and the central Kuriles Monday in the deepest penetration of Japanese defenses ever made by United States warships, Pacific fleet headquarters announced today.

Both raids were coordinated with air blows.

The northern force continued its shelling of Matsua, within 500 miles of the Japanese homeland, into Tuesday.

The carrier task force raid in the southern Marianas was extended into its fourth day and reached out to hit a fifth island.

Battleships, cruisers and destroyers shelled both Saipan and Tinian in the Marianas. If the shoreguns replied their fire was ineffective, for Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said none of the attacking ships was damaged.

Large Fires Started

The warship bombardment started large fires in Tanapag Harbor, anchorage on the western side of Saipan's volcanic hills. Large fires also blazed in Garapa, a town of 10,000 population just south of Tanapag Harbor, and in Charankao, a sugar mill center on the southwest side of Saipan.

It was the first surface bombardment of these key Japanese bases protecting the sea flanks of Japan and the Philippines. As the naval guns opened up, carrier planes which began raiding the Marianas last Saturday, bombed Pagan Island, a satellite Marianas base about 175 miles north of Saipan.

The task force shelling of Matsua was the first time warships have closed in to bombard a base that close to Japan. In coordinated air blows Paramushiro and Shumushu airfields at the northern tip of the Kuriles were bombed.

The simultaneous strikes at the Kuriles and Marianas, over a range of more than 2,000 miles and both within 1,500 miles of Tokyo, exhibited the navy's capacity to hit widely separated Japanese positions at the same time.

Two Killed As Train Hits Truck

PAULS VALLEY, Okla., June 15.—(P)—

Nearly four hours after a flaming collision with a butane gas truck in which the engineer and truck driver were killed, a Santa Fe passenger train with a substitute engine continued its journey south from here Wednesday.

None of the train's passengers was injured. The dead were: W. T. Sykes, Cleburne, Tex., the engineer, and John C. Kerr, Allen, Pontotoc county driver of the truck.

The locomotive, pulling 10 coaches loaded with passengers, struck the truck at a crossing north of here, slashing it half in two and spreading flames over the engine, the baggage coach, and the lead passenger coach, occupied by army troops.

Prisoners Help Close Break In Levee

OMAHA, June 15.—(P)—Volunteers, approximately 100 prisoners of war from the Clarinda, Ia., camp and U. S. Missouri river district engineers Wednesday night succeeded in closing a 200-foot breach in one of the 13 levees reported broken along the Missouri under pressure of flood waters.

Engineers said workers also were winning a fight at another strategic point along the levee to prevent additional water from sweeping into partly-inundated Hamburg, Ia., and threatening Percival, Ia.

Flood stage at Nebraska City, Neb., upstream from the threatened southwestern Iowa and southeastern Nebraska sections, would remain at about 19.5 for the next two days instead of reaching a record-breaking 20 feet, the Kansas City weather bureau reported.

across the Quineville-Montebourg road.

Montebourg: Still in German hands but increasingly outflanked on both sides by the American fourth division which took Quineville and put the Montebourg-Vallonges highway under heavy artillery fire.

Port L'Abe: Airborne Americans, 4 1/2 miles northeast of St. Saver-Le-Comte, under rising enemy pressure but holding firm.

Carentan: American thrust westward now well across defensively flooded ground into firm land west of village of Baupre; Germans acknowledge Americans reach Preto, three miles beyond Baupre and barely six miles from La Haye Du Puits; German 17th motorized infantry division with some tanks crushed back in vain counter-attack.

Lison: Allied 21st army group headquarters disclosed Americans advanced westward in Vire and Elle river areas nearly halfway across base of the Cherbourg peninsula. Particulars withheld. Lison, 11 miles inland, was taken last week.

Caumont: In Allied hands, with operations still in patrol stage but prospects of early expansion. Violent German counter attacks repulsed between Caumont and Tilly-sur-Seulles.

Villers-Bocage: Scene of increasing pressure from both sides, with town in German hands and Allies facing it on high ground quarter-mile distant across Seulles river.

Tilly-Caen-Troarn zone: Heavy tank fighting, with Germans stopped in their tracks around Tilly and losing slightly between Caen and Troarn but still holding onto Troarn.

Prediet Heavy Action

Both the Vichy radio and Allied correspondents in the field predicted a heavy new British-Canadian attack in the Caen sector.

Ross Munro, Canadian press correspondent, said "this campaign is sweeping to its first great climax, and big battles which would bring large armored formations into combat over the Norman farmlands might be approaching rapidly."

British and American warships throughout Thursday engaged German mobile batteries on the Allied flanks, the British battleships Nelson slamming 16-inch shells into the guns at the port of Le Havre.

It was announced also that German naval forces in Le Havre "suffered very severely" from Wednesday's night's RAF attack with six-ton "factory-buster" bombs. The Germans repeatedly have broadcast that Le Havre was an imminent invasion objective of the Allies.

Nine big German Tiger tanks and eight Panthers were reported definitely knocked out in a slug-ging match just east of Villers-Bocage, and it was likely that these represented only a fraction of the day's total losses from the 600 enemy tanks estimated to be in action on the British-Canadian front.

The Allied command emphasized anew that the initiative remained in Allied hands and that every one of the increasingly strong German blows was being met or bested.

Nazi Rush Up Armor

By ROGER GREENE

WITH THE BRITISH FORCES IN FRANCE, June 15.—(P)—German Field Marshal Karl Von Rundstedt was rushing up his heavy armor today, attempting to bottle up the Allies.

So far the Nazi marshal has succeeded only in checking a series of small-scale Allied thrusts, but he has been jarred off balance too repeatedly to mount anything in the way of a major counter-blow himself.

Advance Plan For Peace To The World

representative body," the White House statement said, "with broad responsibilities for promoting and facilitating international cooperation, through such agencies as may be found necessary, to consider and deal with the problems of world relations."

"It is our further thought that the organization would provide for a council, elected annually by the fully representative body of all nations, which would include the four major nations and a suitable number of other nations. The council would concern itself with peaceful settlement of international disputes and with the prevention of threats to the peace or breaches of the peace."

Mr. Roosevelt said this country is not contemplating a super-state with its own police corps to enforce the organization's decisions.

"We are seeking effective agreement and arrangements through which the nations would maintain, according to their capacities, adequate forces to meet the needs of preventing war," he explained, "and of making impossible deliberate preparation for war, and to have such forces available for joint action when necessary."

Declaring that "the national interest demands a national program now," Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that the creation of a world security organization "will become possible once our present enemies are defeated and effective arrangements are made to prevent them from making war again."

Giant Fortress Raid Heart Of Japan

and it will hasten the end of the war.

Starnes told newspapermen later that it could be assumed that, if the bombers went over their targets at 30,000 feet "the losses were negligible, if any, since at that distance they were higher than a Zero can fly and were about out of range of anti-aircraft fire."

Secretary of War Stimson said the bombing represented the beginning of another phase of the war in the Pacific, and declared that no corner of the Japanese homeland is now safe from attack.

"The new long-range bombers have overcome the tremendous barriers of distance to bring the heart of Japan under the guns and the bombs of the army air forces," he said in a statement.

"These giant battleships of the air are far superior to any plane our enemies have been able to develop. American engineering genius and American industrial skill have combined to create this powerful new weapon, capable of carrying the war to the most remote homeland of our enemies."

"They may well ponder when and where and how we shall use this mighty task force next. x x x Shorten Road To Tokyo"

"I congratulate the men who planned this action and manned the airplanes which carried it out. These pioneers have shortened our road to Tokyo."

Thus opened a new phase in the war—a phase in which fleets of the world's most formidable planes will strike at the enemy anywhere on earth at the command of one man—General Henry H. Arnold.

By hitting the Japanese war industries again and again and again, the great planes may change the whole complexion of the Pacific conflict and hasten the day of Japan's utter defeat.

Few details of this first mission by the new air giants—twice as heavy and one third larger than the Flying Fortress—were disclosed in a War Department announcement.

Unquestionably, if the high command so decides, the attack can be repeated with regularity.

By contract, the Doolittle raid of April 18, 1942, was a one-shot affair. The Doolittle raiders, flying twin-engine medium bombers took off from a carrier and were forced to crash land in China. Some fell into the hands of the Japanese who announced they had executed eight of them.

Summing up in understatement the meaning of this new attack, General H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, said: "This employment of the B-29 makes possible the softening up attack on Japan very much earlier than would be possible with aircraft hitherto known to combat."

With today's announcement the War Department disclosed some hitherto secret information about the B-29's and revealed the organization of the 20th air force as a roving, globe circling command headed by General Arnold.

Strike Where Most Needed

It compared the 20th air force to a naval task force, likening it to "an aerial battle fleet, able to participate in combined operations, or to be assigned to strike wherever the need is greatest."

The plane has a wing span of 141.2 feet, is 98 feet long and 27 high. Performance details were withheld except that it "carries the greatest load faster, farther and higher than any other airplane in existence," and its speed compares favorably with that of the fastest fighter planes.

On the point of range, General Arnold said some months ago that the super Fortresses would be capable of flying across the Atlantic and back non-stop.

In comment on today's news, Arnold said:

"This super Fortress is not going to win the war by itself, nor has anyone thought it will do so. It will, however, like its predecessors, the B-17 and B-24, strike at the sources of enemy strength, and prepare the way for ultimate decision by our well-equipped team of land, sea and air forces."

Arnold's command of the 20th air force is separate from his post as chief of the air forces. As chief of staff of the 20th air force he has Brig. Gen. Haywood Hansell, Jr., of Fort Monroe, Va.

Brig. Gen. Kenneth D. Wolfe of Riverdale, Calif., is commander of the 20th bomber command which is the unit of the 20th air force making the attack on Japan.

General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, explained in a statement that the super Fortresses were placed under an air force of special organization because they create "a new problem in the application of military force."

Because of their great power and ability to strike "from many and remote bases at a single objective," it was decided that it would be uneconomical to confine the super Fortresses to a single theater, Marshall said.

"These bombers therefore will remain under the centralized control of the joint chiefs of staff with a single commander, General Arnold, acting as their agent in directing their bombing operations throughout the world," he continued.

The B-29, as disclosed for the first time, is a heavily armored ship whose bomb load, range and ceiling exceed that of any other plane. It is powered by four engines of 2,200 horsepower each, each carrying two superchargers. Its wing span is 141.2 feet, as compared with the B-17's (Flying Fortress) span of 104 feet.

General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, in a statement on the attack made public by the War Department, said that the Super Fortress introduced a new type of offensive against the enemy and "also creates a new problem in the application of military force."

Because of the enormous range and heavy bomb load of this newest bombardment plane, said Marshall, they can strike "from many and remote bases at a single objective."

Their power is so great, the chief of staff continued, that the (American) joint chiefs of staff decided it would be uneconomical to confine the Super Fortress organization to a single theater, and "these bombers therefore will remain under the centralized control of the joint chiefs of staff with a single commander, General Arnold, acting as their agent in directing their bombing operations throughout the world."

Major Task Forces

"The planes will be treated as major task forces in the same manner as naval task forces are directed against specific objectives," Marshall said.

"This type of flexible, centralized control recognizes that very long-range bombardment is not a weapon for the air forces alone. Under the joint chiefs of staff, theater commanders will have a voice in its employment, ensuring that maximum effectiveness will be obtained through missions which will contribute directly to the overall strategies for the defeat of the enemies."

It was the second American raid on the Japanese homeland. On April 18, 1942, when American military fortunes were at their lowest, the nation was electrified by word that Tokyo and other Japanese cities had been attacked from the air.

The first announcement then came from the Japanese and it was not until weeks later that it was learned that a force of B-25 Mitchell bombers under James H. Doolittle, then only a lieutenant colonel but now a lieutenant general commanding the Eighth Air Force in Britain, had carried out that adventurous mission.

The Mitchells flew from the aircraft carrier Hornet and after crossing Japan flew on to the continent. One landed in eastern Siberia, the others in China. Some of them came down in Japanese-held territory and a few of the fliers were taken captive. Months later the Japanese themselves made it known that some of these prisoners had been executed.

Bases Built By Hand

NEW YORK, June 15.—(P)—James Stewart, former CBS correspondent in Chungking, discussing in a broadcast today the newest U. S. bombing of Japan, said the big B-29's "took off and landed on Chinese bases" constructed secretly in western China with native labor.

The bases, he said, were built entirely by hand and in the peak employment period 430,000 Chinese farmers were used.

"Specific plans for the destruction of Japan by air from bases in the interior of China were made in Washington in the fall of 1943," he said, when Gen. Henry H. Arnold decided with conferences with the highest Chinese authorities that such bases were feasible.

Lt. Col. Waldo Kennerson of Boston, Mass., was in charge of the work, Stewart reported.

were believed to have escorted the bombers, for they began circling over the southeast coast shortly before the British heavyweights appeared in the sky.

While many of the bombers returned quickly from their mission to the Boulogne area, others were believed to have headed much deeper into Nazi territory.

The raid was made in the face of threatening weather—with wind blowing stronger, considerable cloud and prospect of rain.

Attack Airfields

The American navies were escorted by nearly 755 fighters in a series of attacks on plane assembly plants, airfields, and rail targets over a 300 mile-long stretch as far away as Bordeaux, while other fighters and medium bombers made repeated sharp attacks almost within sight of the Allied lines.

Out of this mighty daylight operation, three U. S. heavy bombers, one medium and four fighters were missing, headquarters announced. At least 24 enemy planes were shot down.

The Fortresses and Liberators dropped an estimated 3,250 tons of bombs on dozens of targets in a thunderous follow-up to the mightiest series of air blows of the war which the RAF cut loose last night.

German fighter opposition was spotty, most airmen reporting the sky clear of the enemy. One trio of RAF Spitfire squadrons, however, engaged 30 Nazi in one of the fiercest combats since D-Day and shot down eight of them while losing one plane.

The Nazi sent night riders against England around midnight, the second night attack this week.

warships and the bombing and strafing of carrier planes.

Additional assault forces were storming ashore despite enemy resistance they were supported by carrier aircraft and the big guns of surface units, including battle wagons, cruisers and destroyers.

This bold move to advance American bases 1,100 miles west of the Marshall Islands climaxed four days of pre-invasion assault by powerful Pacific fleet task forces, starting last Saturday. The first day of the attack wiped out virtually all of the enemy's air force based in the southern Marianas.

Remnants of that air power and enemy shipping in and around the islands were disposed of Sunday and Monday. Then the invading forces turned their attention to obliterating enemy defenses in preparation for the landings.

Saipan, Tinian, Pagan, Rota and Guam Islands, the latter the former American naval base, were well worked over in the preparatory stages of the attack.

The American forces were described by their commander, Vice Admiral Richmond Kelly Turner, as the most experienced amphibious war fleet in the world. He told war correspondents prior to the landing that this thrust into Japan's inner defense lines was designed to destroy Saipan as an enemy base and convert it to Allied use.

Claim Heavy Casualties

NEW YORK, June 15.—(P)—The Tokyo radio claimed tonight that the invasion of Saipan in the Marianas has cost the Allies 1,800 casualties and the loss of 40 landing barges.

The broadcast, monitored by NBC, asserted, "obviously this invasion of Saipan was timed to coincide with the invasion of Europe, but we have thrown the Americans back to the sea."

No Step-Up For Gas Rations Now

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—In a last-minute change of plans, the Office of Price Administration has decided against any increase in gasoline rations for the third quarter of the year commencing July 1, it was learned tonight.

Up until late today it was understood, the agency had planned to boost the "B" card ration in at least the eastern states, where it is smaller than in the rest of the country. New figures and gasoline usage showed, however, that consumption in the east has been running considerably ahead of quotas.

OPA announcement of the decision is set tentatively for tomorrow.

Kenny Cure Is Considered

Controversy Up Before Medical Profession

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
CHICAGO, June 15.—(P)—Seven physicians who in the last two years investigated the Kenny treatment for infantile paralysis reported today that so far as they could find in 740 cases examined, this treatment does not prevent or decrease the amount of paralysis resulting from the disease. They said 650 of the cases had received the Kenny treatment.

The report was made to the convention of the American medical association.

Miss Kenny, who was not present at the meeting, replied in an interview putting it up to the American people and the medical profession whether she should remain and continue her work, or go back to Australia where she originated her methods in the bush 35 years ago.

She quoted medical authorities in this country supporting her on one of the principal points in the controversy raised by today's committee report. Her claims of success are based on a concept of infantile paralysis different from that of the medical profession, and this concept is one issue.

She maintains that what goes on in the muscles themselves at the time of the sickness is largely responsible for the later paralysis. The medical concept is that this muscular disturbance is not so important, but that nerve destruction causes the paralysis.

Without crediting her directly, but attributing the result to the publicity which she inspired, the committee said it acknowledged the publicity "has stimulated the medical profession to reevaluate known methods of treatment in this disease and to treat it more effectively."

Dr. Delia A. Lynch, Omaha, a physician who took the Kenny treatment training, and who listened to the report told the Associated Press in an interview she thought the report "ungenerous" in failing sufficiently to credit the way Miss Kenny has spread the use of certain treatment methods throughout the medical profession. Dr. Lynch herself started infantile paralysis treatment 35 years ago, much like Miss Kenny, on her own. Like Miss Kenny she found hot water useful.

Hot packs are a big feature of the Kenny treatment. The committee said they are useful in a few unusual cases.

Edward Staples Succeeds Arnett

JEFFERSON CITY, June 15.—(P)—Edward Staples will succeed Keeton Arnett July 1 as director of the Missouri Public Expenditure Survey, Frank C. Rand of St. Louis, chairman of the taxpayers association, announced today.

Staples worked more than a year as Arnett's assistant before resigning to become assistant to Branch Rickey, executive of the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball team.

"The new director is thoroughly experienced in organization and taxpayer work," Rand said. "Under his direction the survey will continue its vigorous program to produce better government at lower cost through organized citizen action."

Arnett's resignation to enter public relations work in Chicago was announced last Saturday, and Rand said it was accepted "reluctantly and with regret."

Staples is a native of Saline county and a graduate of Kemper Military school and the University of Missouri. He also has served as principal of schools at Fulton and Blackwater and worked with Rickey when he was vice president of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team.

Senators Discuss Pleasant Features of Post-War World

By Francis J. Kelly
WASHINGTON, June 15.—(P)—Pleasant features of the postwar world, some hopeful senators agreed today, will include: laundry that comes back in less than two weeks, filling station attendants who gladly check your tires and grocers with cheery smiles handing out complimentary sacks of lollipops to children on Saturday night.

"A buyers' market is inevitable after the war," was the way Senator George (D-Ga) put it, and he's been studying the probabilities for months as chairman of the senate's special postwar planning committee.

Senators, it develops are quite as familiar with the little annoyances of wartime living as the rest of civilian Americans. The most casual questioning brought tales of torn shirts, suits held for weeks by dry cleaners, and grocery clerks who displayed a minimum of interest in maintaining good will.

Will Bid For Trade
"Most of the service industries, necessarily are underfunded because of the wartime demand for manpower," said Senator Butler (R-Neb), "but veterans who start their own businesses will be bidding for trade, and competition should bring much better conditions all around."

As more raw materials are released for production of consumer items, tight supply situations should be cleared up and the consumer will get an additional dividend, the senators agreed.

"Of course," said George, "there will be some items which haven't been made during the war—vacuum cleaners and cars, for instance—for which there will be a big backlog of demand that won't be filled for months or even years."

Senator Tunnell (D-De) thought the reaction from war may be some time in coming. He pointed out that fair-sized booms with relatively high prices continued for several years after the civil war and after the first
